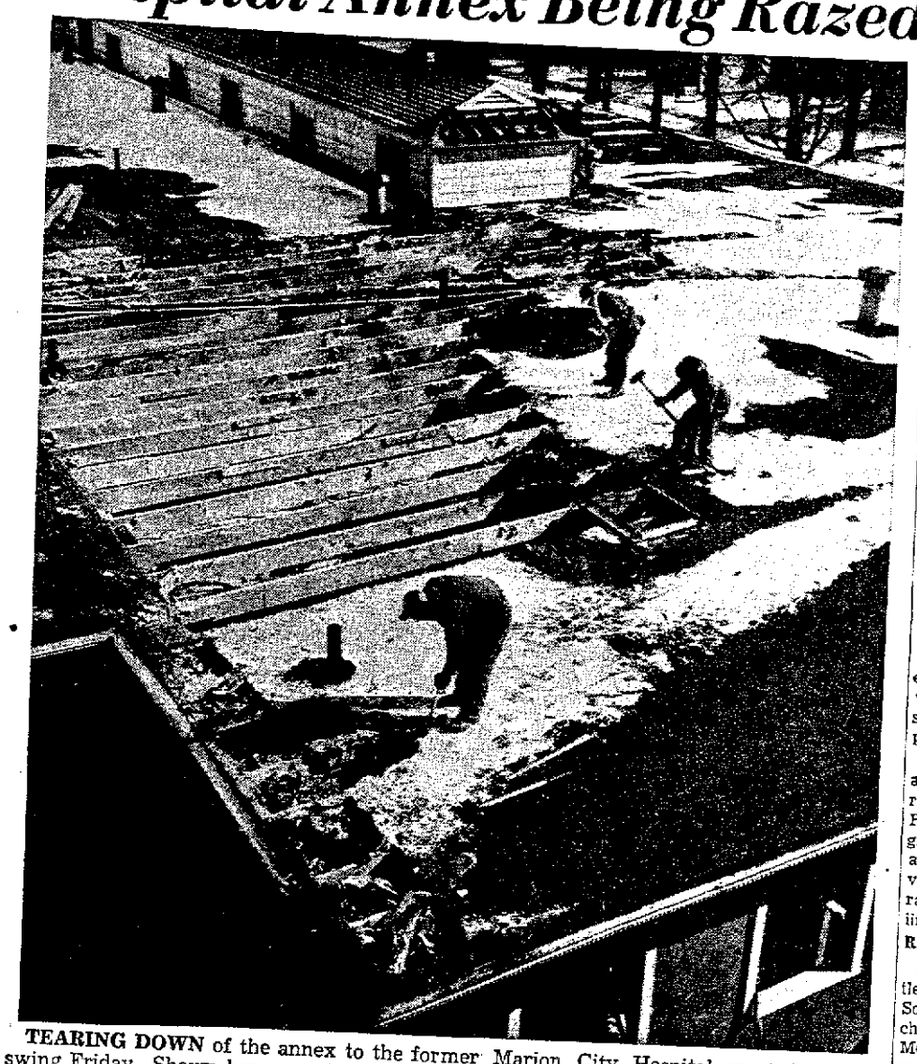
Hospital Annex Being Razed



TEARING DOWN of the annex to the former Marion City Hospital went into full swing Friday. Shown here are city workers hammering away at the roof of the building to break through to the joists underneath. All usable materials from the building are being saved for future use by the city. After the building is removed a new drive will be constructed about under the point where the men are shown working. The drive will serve a new drive-in pay window for the garbage department.

Blizzard Hits Rockies, Five Dead, Hundreds Marooned

Pineau Fails In Attempt at Premiership

Rejected by Assembly As Crisis Continues In French Government

PARIS (AP)—France's latest government crisis entered its third week today as the National Assembly rejected Christian Pineau's premiership bid.

Pineau who lost out 312-268 in a postmidnight vote, immediately reported his defeat to President Rene Coty. The President who has given three aspirants a chance after Pierre Mendes-France was voted out Feb. 5, lost no time arranging a serious of consultations iin quest of a new canidate.

Radical Socialist Likely

Predictions were Coty would settle on a member of the Radical Socialist party. Seen as likely choices were Edgar Faure, Andre Morice, Maurice Bourges-Maunoury and Sen. Jean Berthoin. All were former ministers and all but Morice had served in Mendes-France's government.

Coty already has let the independents, Popular Republican Movement (MRP) and the Socialists try their luck at forming France's 21st postwar government. But all failed at one stage or another.

Independent Antoine Pinay could not get enough promises of support to even start formation of a cabinet.

Defeat No Surprize

Pierre Pflimlin of the MRP had to call it quits when he had his government almost finished. He could not fill in the final places.

Pineau's defeat came as no surprise. He always was on shaky ground and seemed to be in an untenable position after three followers of Gen. Charles De Gaulle refused cabinet posts after tentatively accepting them.

Pineau was opposed strongly by the Communists and far right wing elements.

NEW ATOMIC SERIES STARTS. The atom cloud from an explosion on the Atomic Energy Commission's test site northwest of Las Vegas, Nev., rises skyward as the long delayed 1955 test series is launched. Snowplows Save Drivers In Deep Drifts

Storm Losing Some of Its Fury as It Moves East to Midcontinent

By The Associated Press

A blizzard which struck destructive blows in the Rockies and sections of the midcontinent appeared losing some of its fury as it moved east and southward today.

At least five deaths were blamed on the stormiest weather of the season which whipped areas of Colorado, Wyoming and Montana. At least 17 others were injured.

19 in Bus Rescued

Nineteen passengers and the driver of a Greyhound bus were rescued from a stalled vehicle near the top of the Continental Divide on U.S. 30 in southern Wyoming. Scores of motorists were marooned on open highways as strong winds drifted the falling snow. Day long falls of snow left many communities isolated. Fresh snow measured up to 19 inches in some parts of Colorado and Wyoming. It was from 5 to 8 inches in most of the storm belt and more than 30 inches in some mountain areas.

Snowplows broke through to release 25 persons who had been reported missing on snow-clogged highways.

Bus Stalled in Snow

Rescued in the same vicinity, near the top of the Continental Divide on U.S. 30 in southern Wyoming were a Greyhound bus stalled with 19 passengers and the driver; and six Craig, Colo., men in a station wagon.

Subzero cold hung on, however, as many communities were isolated by waist-deep drifts.

Big rotary snowplows carved a path to the bus.

Working through most of the night, big rotary snowplows carved a path to the marooned bus and station wagon in the vicinity of a gas stop known as Divide Station, about 25 miles west of Rawlins. It was near there that another Greybound bus with 31 passengers and the driver were rescued yesterday.

Still another rescue operation freed six persons near Newcastle, Wyo.

Auto accidents attributed directly to icy highways were blamed for

Big Atom Blast Put Off Due to Wind Velocity

AEC May Follow Up Friday's Detonation With One Tomorrow

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—A nuclear detonation scheduled at dawn was postponed early today by scientists because of continuing high winds. Strong gusts caused a three-day delay in opening the spring atomic test series.

A weather briefing at 2 a.m. PST disclosed that a straight north wind was blowing 30 to 35 m.p.h. with gusts up to 40 m.p.h.

Would Have Forced Evacuation

A detonation under those wind conditions, the test chiefs said, would have forced the evacuation of the test control point, of Camp Mercury, the AEC support camp, and of Camp Desert Rock, the Army headquarters, because of the danger of radioactive contamination.

Another weather huddle was scheduled, probably about 11 a.m. PST to discuss a Sunday shot. But meteorologists said the weather outlook is not good.

Today's shot was to have been the 500-foot tower explosion originally scheduled to open the series last Tuesday. About 450 troops were scheduled to carry out maneuvers after taking the impact of the blast in trenches 4,000 yards from the tower. Including observers, perhaps 1,100 men were to have taken up trench positions.

Score Perfect Shot

The same group watched yesterday's show from News Nob, eight miles from a burst beautifully placed above Yucca Flat by a B36 crew of the 4925th Test Group, special weapons center, Kirtland Air Force Base, N.M.

After two bombing runs were backed by the layer of clouds

Injunction Dismissed

Local School Case Reversed by Court

The Supreme Court of Ohio probably will be asked to decide the validity of a disputed transfer of Marion County school district property, following a decision announced this morning by the Third District Court of Appeals in which the transfer was upheld.

The Appeals Court dissolved an injunction granted in Marion County Common Pleas Court which had prevented the County Board of Education from carrying out the land transfer.

HOWEVER, the Appeals Court certified the case to the Supreme Court of Ohio for review since its decision was in conflict with a decision of another appeals court (the Eighth District Court) in a similar case.

The question at issue is whether or not a county board of education can transfer school district land if it has no inhabitants.

Attorneys for the county school board, and the Third District Appeals Court judges, believe it can. The plaintiff in the case, the late Lowell H. Guthery, a taxpayer of the Green Camp school district, believed it could not. Attorneys for the plaintiff, the Marion law firm of Guthery, Harmon, Conkle and Gracely, cited the Eighth District Appeals Court ruling made in 1917 as basis for their belief.

The Third District Appeals Court judges, however, think that the 1917 decision was unsound, and therefore ruled for the defendant, the County Board of Education.

THE OLD 1917 ruling said "a county board of education is not authorized to transfer vacant prop-

Plane Reported Missing With 13 Passengers

ALBUQUERQUE, (AP)—TWA today reported one of its planes—a Martin 404 with 16 aboard—an hour and a half overdue on a flight to Santa Fe, N.M., 70 miles away.

R. B. Riordan, district sales superintendent for the airline, said the plane carried 13 passengers and a crew of three.

It left Albuquerque at 7 a.m. (MST) and was due in Santa Fe at 7:25 a.m.

The flight originated in Albuquerque and was to travel from there to Amarillo, Tex., and Topeka, Kan.

"It may have landed somewhere, but I don't know where it could be," Riordan said. "We are still looking for it."

The U.S. Weather Bureau said a rugged mountain range—the Sangre de Cristos—which stand along the plane's route—were obscured from the base to the summit.

Scattered snow flurries were lashing the peaks under the clouds, the Weather Bureau said.

New Mexico State Police said they had been alerted to search for the craft.

Damp, Colder Air Due for Weekend

Rain and mild temperatures are forecast for tonight in Marion and the area with colder weather on the way Sunday. Low temperature tonight is expected to be between 36 and 46.

For Sunday, the forecast is cloudy, windy and mild with rain, turning colder at night with rain changing to snow.

At noon today in Marion, the mercury stood at 42. High reading Friday was 39 and the overnight low was 28.

5 Others Damaged

Chinese Claim 15 Red Boats Are Lost

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Chinese Nationalist pilots reported sinking 15 motorized armed Communist junks and damaging five others today in the second day of heavy air and surface strikes against the Reds.

The air force said its planes caught the Communist craft near the Taishan Island, 120 miles northwest of Formosa, which the Reds apparently are trying to build up. Twenty-three of the ships were sighted.

21 Sunk Friday

This was in the same area where the Nationalist air force and navy claimed to have sunk 21 Red ships and a submarine yesterday.

Tonight's communique said all planes returned safely. There was no mention of any opposition by Chinese Communist planes.

Another communique reported Nationalist planes heavily bombed installations on the Taishans last night and possibly destroyed one warship. It apparently was the same claim made in a late communique yesterday.

The Reds appeared to be making an intensive effort to build up on the Taishans which are within striking range of Nationalist positions on Nanchishan Island.

Newspapers reported earlier that Chinese Communist troops and supply ships sunk yesterday in Nationalist China's biggest naval victory radioed for air cover, but no Red planes appeared.

The Nationalists claimed 21 ships and a submarine sunk in the blazing action near the Taishan Islands, 120 miles northwest of Formosa and 15 miles from the Red mainland — within easy range of Communist air bases.

Had Advance Information

In reporting the action Friday the Nationalist Defense Ministry made no mention of Red fighters challenging Nationalist planes and surface craft which carried on the daylong attack.

Advance intelligence of the Reds' troop and supply movements set up the Nationalist strike in the Formosa Strait Friday.

The Nationalists exulted in a victory which lifted morale from the

Ike's Request On Tariff Bills Passes in House

Democrats Lead Fight For Extension; Senate Debate Due Next Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's request for new tariff bargaining powers, approved without change by the House after a bitter fight, moved today toward quick consideration in the Senate.

Chairman Byrd (D-Va) said he would call the Senate Finance Committee next Wednesday to consider the measure. He said hearings probably will start soon afterwards.

Amendment Defeated

The House passed the bill 295-110 yesterday after beating back 206 - 199 an amendment which would have curbed the President's powers, and which its opponents said would have had a "crippling" and "devastating" effect.

House Democrats led by Speaker Rayburn (Tex), who made a personal appeal in a floor speech at a crucial point in the debate, supplied by far the biggest bloc of votes for the administration.

They voted 140-80 against the restrictive amendment, while Republicans favored it 119-66. Final passage saw Democrats voting 186-35 and Republicans 109-75 for the measure.

Extends Law

The bill would extend the 20-year-old reciporcal trade law three more years, and give the President additional power to reduce tariffs 5 per cent a year during that period, in return for concessions on U.S. shipments abroad. In addition, he could lower all duties above 50 per cent of the value of the goods down to that level, and could slash by 50 per cent duties on articles imported in negligible quantities.

Senate Democratic leaders expressed hope they can roll up a big vote for the measure, to show strong support for the President on one of his key, controversial proposals.

Pacific Defense Treaty Ratified

MANILA (AP) — The eight-nation Manila Pact, aimed at halting Communist aggression and subversion south of Red China's border, was formally ratified and put into force today.

Instruments of ratification of the pact — the Southeast Asia Collective Defense Treaty — were deposited by representatives of the United States, United Kingdom, Thailand, Philippines, Pakistan, New Zealand, France and Australia.

Formal ratification came barely five months after the treaty was signed in Manila, last Sept. 8.

Philippine Vice President and Foreign Secretary Carlos P. Garcia accepted the ratification instruments on behalf of his government.

Innocent Plea Made in Killing

Insanity Claimed by Mt. Vernon Defendant

MOUNT VERNON, Ohio (AP) — Glenn Denton Hoffer, 24, Mount Vernon, has pleaded innocent by reason of insanity on charges of first degree murder in the fatal shooting of his mother-in-law.

The Korean War veteran at his arraignment here yesterday also entered a plea of innocent to a charge of shooting his father-in-law with intent to kill.

Hoffer was ordered held without bond in county jail until Judge Jay S. McDevitt rules on the plea.

Court-appointed defense attorney Richard H. Norris, who submitted the pleas, asked that Hoffer be committed to a mental institution for examination.

Hoffer was indicted Jan. 31 by a special grand jury in the death of Mrs. Sheilan Hamon, 38, and the shooting of her husband, Starling, 41.

Hoffer was estranged from his wife, Trulah, who was working in Mansfield at the time of the killing.

Prosecutor Charles W. Ayers said Hoffer signed a statement admitting the Jan. 17 shooting in the Hamon farm house, three miles northwest of Fredericktown, which is seven miles north of here.

Knowland Satisfied

Leaders in Senate Differ On Ike's Formosa Views

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Ervin (D-NC) said today he supports President Eisenhower's decision not to tip the Chinese Communists in advance whether the United States intends to defend Quemoy and the Matsus.

But Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala), a Senate Foreign Relations Committee member, said that "if the administration really intends to defend Quemoy and the Matsus, then we should make it very clear to the Chinese Communists."

Control Is Necessary

The two Democrats spoke out in interviews after Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) told the Senate yesterday continued free world control of these Nationalist - held islands close to the Chinese mainland is part of "a very clear and necessary deterrent to any aggressions by Moscow-supported China."

Smith said subsequently he wished Secretary of State Dulles had been "more specific" in spelling out the same sort of belief in a New York speech last Wednesday. Dulles said then the United States would not defend the Chinese coastal islands "as such." But the secretary implied this country would fight if the Communists should try to grab those islands as a jumping off point for conquest of Formosa.

'Firm Position'

Dulles' stand apparently satisfied Sen. Knowland (R-Calif), who told a San Francisco news conference yesterday the secretary had taken a "firm position" on defending Formosa, the nearby Pescadores Islands and "such other areas" as might be considered vital in this defense. Knowland said he thought it now is clear the United States will resist any Red attempt to overrun Quemoy and the Matsus.

Ervin said he supports the administration's stand on Formosa because it follows closely his own view that "you can't satisfy the appetite of a blackmailer by paying him more blackmail."

Hope Fades in Search For Bomber in Alaska

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—Hope was slight today as scores of search planes continued to seek a Navy patrol bomber and the 11 men it carried when it disappeared only a few miles from here Thursday night.

The aerial hunt was concentrated on surrounding mountains and the icy waters of Cook Inlet where a day-long check by 55 search planes had failed to disclose any trace of the twin-engined P2V5 Neptune yesterday.

No School Monday, Tuesday

Teachers To Tour City's Major Plants on Monday

Approximately 360 teachers in Marion public and parochial schools will participate Monday in the annual Business, Industry and Education Day sponsored by the Industrial Leaders Conference of the Chamber of Commerce.

The tour of plants in the city will give the students in all Marion city schools and St. Mary School a holiday.

They will also have a holiday Tuesday — George Washington's birthday.

THE TEACHERS will be split up into six groups of 60 apiece. They have already been assigned to their respective tours and will meet at the first plant on the tour at 9 a.m.

At noon, they will gather at Harding High School cafeteria for a luncheon. Don Grace, advertising manager of The Marion Star, will serve as toastmaster. Included in the list of speakers for the luncheon are Odell Thompson, vice president of the Chamber of Commerce; C. L. Baxter, chairman of the Manufacturers' Council; Robert S. Brown, superintendent of Marion City Schools; Very Rev. William J. Spickerman, pastor of St. Mary Church, and Frank Bartos, chairman of the Industrial Leaders' Conference.

PURPOSE of the BIE Day is to familiarize teachers in the local schools with the operations of the industries in the Marion area.

To be included in the tour are Fairfield Engineering Co., Marion Power Shovel Co., Tecumseh Products Co., B. F. Goodrich Co., Eaton Manufacturing Co., Huber Manufacturing Co., the Osgood Co., The Marion Star, General Telephone Co., Arro Expansion Bolt Co., and McMillen Feed Mills, Inc.

As in the past, officials of the companies to be visited will guide the teachers through the plants, explaining the various phases of operations as each is visited.

Teachers from the high schools, junior high schools and elementary schools all will take part in the program.

Plane Crash Reported Near Springfield, Illinois

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — State police reported today they were investigating a report that a plane crashed 10 to 15 miles north of Springfield near Loami.

Springfield's airport reported it, too, had received a report of a crash in the vicinity "with five persons involved."

Russia Calls for World Freeze on All Armaments

MOSCOW (AP) — Reiterating her 9-year-old stand on arms questions, the Soviet Union has called for a world freeze on armaments and the immediate destruction of all atomic and hydrogen weapons.

The Russian declaration was issued last night, a week before the scheduled reopening of disarmament discussions in London by a United Nations subcommittee. It announced that Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko and Jacob Malik, Russian ambassador to London, would represent the Soviet Union in the talks.

Insisting that Western powers were intensifying the arms race and production of atomic weapons by pushing for the rearmament of Western Germany, the statement said:

"The Soviet government considers atomic weapons should be banned and effective international control established for the prohibition of atomic weapons and the reduction of arms and armed forces, first of all of the major powers.

"An important step in that direction would be an international agreement under which the states would make a solemn pledge to refrain from using such weapons."

The statement proposed that a general international conference on reduction of armaments be held sometime this year and said the Soviet Union wants the nations:

1. To "abolish completely the stocks of atomic and hydrogen bombs which states possess, leading to exclusive utilization of atomic materials for peaceful purposes.

2. Not to increase the size of their armed forces and their armaments as compared with the level of Jan. 1, 1955, as well as not to increase allocations for military purposes as compared with budget allocations for 1955."

The statement charged that recent decisions of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) were aimed at war preparations and "cannot but lead to increased danger of a devastating atomic war."

Baby-Sitters, Domestics Covered

Revised Social Security Law Affects Housewives

WASHINGTON (AP)—Do you pay a baby sitter an average of $4 a week?

Do you have a cleaning woman who comes in once a week? or a gardener, handyman or other casual domestic help?

If you do, it is quite likely you are now an employer, with the same responsibility as a big corporation for paying social security taxes.

New provisions of the social security law that went into effect Jan. 1 lowered the qualifying limits for domestics to include them in the social security system if they get $50 cash wages from you in any calendar quarter of the year.

That means any one person to whom you pay about $4 a week or more throughout any one quarter will probably qualify—making you an official employer, with full responsibility for collecting, reporting and paying social security tax.

YOUR BABY SITTER, if she—or he—gets $50 a quarter or more from you, is included. Age makes no difference. You are responsible for collecting, reporting and paying social security taxes even if the employe does not want to come into the system.

(But it is up to the government to call on the employe—using the name and address you must supply—and give her a social security card and number.)

Internal Revenue officials say the penalties which apply for failure to file or pay income tax also apply, where appropriate, to the reporting and paying of social security taxes by householders.

In case of civil delinquency, failure to file the return in time would subject householders to a penalty of 5 per cent a month of the tax due, up to a total of 25 per cent, plus interest at 6 per cent on the unpaid tax.

For criminal failure to file, which involves wilfulness, the possible penalties range up to a fine of $10,000 or a prison term up to one year, or both, for each offense.

THE FULL responsibility for collecting, reporting and paying the social security taxes lies on the employer, the revenue service said, and therefore the penalties apply only to the employer.

It makes no difference whether the employe wants to participate in social security, or does not want to do so. The employer is responsible for paying the taxes even if the employe does not wish to participate.

The only test now for whether your household employe is eligible for social security coverage is:

Does he or she receive $50 cash wages from you in any calendar quarter—January through March, April through June, July through September, October through December? The number of days worked in the quarter—previously it had to be 24 days—no longer matters.

The government estimates the new provisions made something like a quarter of a million maids, baby sitters, handmeyn and other domestic or casual employes of nonfarm families eligible.

What are your obligations as an employer?

IF YOU HAVE a domestic employe who qualifies, you are obligated to:

1. Deduct 2 per cent from his wages.

2. Add from your own pocket the same amount. (If you prefer, you may make no deduction and pay the total 4 per cent of the cash wages from your own pocket.)

3. Send this 4 per cent to your district director of internal revenue within a month after the close of the calendar quarter, along with the Employer's Quarterly Tax Return for Household Employes.

4. At the end of each calendar year, give your employe a written statement of how much wages you paid him during the year, and how much social security tax you sent in for him.

These are the same as the obligations of any firm in taking care of its employes' social security contributions. You are not required, as a business is, also to deduct income tax and send that to the government.

Here are some of the questions that seem to be the most common, and answers from social security and the revenue service:

What does all this get for my employe?

It allows your household help to join the majority of the nation's millions of breadwinners in paying a quarterly premium on monthly retirement benefits to be paid after the employe is 65, or make monthly payments to the worker's survivors.

Your local social security office can supply full details on the complicated business of how much coverage is needed for what benefits.

Just what "household help" is included?

The revenue service lists maids, laundresses, cooks, housekeepers, gardners, janitors, furnacemen, handymen, governesses, valets, butlers, chauffeurs and baby sitters. The rule is that they must be your own employes. This lets out carpenters, painters and like workers who are self-employed (doing work for you under contract, not as your employe) or who are the employes of some firm. The taxes do not apply to your mother, father, wife, husband or son or daughter under 21.

WHAT DOES "cash" wages mean?

This means money paid out by you. It includes checks and money orders. It does not include street-car tokens, but does include cash paid for carfare. It does not include the value of food, clothing, room or such other noncash payments.

What about a maid, or other household employe, who does not have a social security number?

The employe should be sent to your local social security office, or should write to the office (you can do this for the employe) for Form SS-5 (Application for Social Security Accounts Number.) Or this can be obtained from your district director of internal revenue.

How do I—newly an employer for social security tax purposes—get started?

TELEPHONE, write or visit your local revenue office or social security office and ask for the Employer's Quarterly Tax Return for Household Employes. Once you get this, you will go on the mailing list of your district director of internal revenue, and he will send the form to you each quarter, in time for filing.

Say I have a maid, or handyman, who also works in other homes? Should each householder be reporting separately for this employe?

Yes, each reports separately, and each pays social security taxes — or does not pay them — under the $50 a quarter rule.

You may get from any Internal Revenue Service office a booklet called "Household Employer's Social Security Tax Guide." This goes fully into your obligations under the new law, tells you how to fulfill them, and provides helpful tax tables, plus forms for keeping records and for making the required annual report to your employe.

'CERTIFIED MAIL'. Proposed new 15-cent stamp for "certified mail" is shown. The stamp would be used on first class mail for which no indemnity is claimed but for which proof of mailing and proof of delivery would be available at reduced cost as compared with mail that is now registered.

Confident Living

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

How To Overcome Obstacles

One of my good friends is a man I literally bumped into one morning years ago.

DR. PEALE

I had a roomette on a train going into Cleveland, Ohio. If you've ever traveled in a roomette, you know how small they are. You almost have to back in and out of them. Well, I was backing out of mine and this other fellow was backing out of his and we backed into each other. "I beg your pardon," I said.

"Oh, that's all right," he said. "I get bumped into a lot. It doesn't make any difference."

"I'm sorry you got bumped into by me," I answered sympathetically.

"It doesn't matter where I go," he told me, "or what I do, it's always the wrong thing. I put my foot into it and make a mess of everything."

I didn't quite know how to react to all this negativism in a stranger, so I commented on how lovely the morning was. "Oh," he said, "in this part of the country it may look bright in the early morning, but that may often mean rain by ten o'clock."

His conversation went on in this dismal vein and eventually we got around to introducing ourselves to each other. There was no diner on that train and it was late getting into the station, so I remarked, "I'm getting hungry, aren't you?"

"No," he said, "I haven't any appetite."

I URGED HIM to join me, in any case, and offered to buy the breakfast for him. He said the station restaurant wasn't very good, but I knew better and finally he decided to come along. We had a fine breakfast together and, when we finished, he asked me, "How come you think optimistically about everything"

I answered by asking him why he was so pessimistic. He said that everything was going badly and that was why, I told him that he had the cart before the horse and that things went badly because he was pessimistic. We talked about this a while and I gave him some literature on right thinking which I had with me. I tried to get across to him the techniques of postivie thinking.

"I have a lot of big obstacles," he protested. "They're like mountains. I can't get around them."

"Yes, you can," I insisted. "You can not only get around them; you can blast them out of existence." I reminded him of that exciting statement in the Bible: "If ye have faith, and doubt not . . . ye shall say unto this mountain, Be thou removed, and be thou cast into the sea; it shall be done." "If every time you come up against one of these mountains in your path, you just whirl those old words out and believe in them, you will destroy your obstacles with the powerful help of God. Then things will go better for you," I said.

IT WAS SOME time before I saw this man again, but he told me that our conversation in that station restaurant had marked a real turning point in his life. "I went home and started studying the Bible. I found that passage you gave me," he said, "and lots of others just as good. It took me quite a while to learn how to use them against an obstacle, but now I just throw one of those passages at it and give it real effort as well and down it goes. Life now is good. I feel fine and my future prospects look just wonderful. 'I'm also trying to help others to discover this amazing way of living.

Here was a man who had been thoroughly made over. How? By the most dynamic, creative force in the world — faith operating in the human mind. And there isn't an individual reading these words who can't have the same thing done for himself, provided he will have humble faith. So, take a straight, fearless look at your problems and the obstacles you face. Then hurl the great challenge of faith at them and see how quickly they come tumbling down.

Lutheran Church Groups To Join in Study During Lent

The Women's Missionary Society and the Guild of Emanuel Lutheran Church will join for a series of Lenten study sessions beginning Friday, March 4, it was announced today. All sessions will be held in the church parlors and will be open to anyone interested.

The first meeting, scheduled for 1:30 p.m., will be in charge of Mrs. Lawrence Rengert and Mrs. Homer Huffman. Pakistan, a new mission field of the church, will be the study topic.

Thursday, March 17 is the date for the second meeting of the series. The time is 2 p.m. India Missions will be studied with emphasis on plans for future expansion. Mrs. George E. Turner will review "Jeep Tracks," by Helen L. Bailey. The story is a personal account of the trials and triumphs encountered by the author in her evangelistic work travelling by jeep among the Telegu people of India. In charge of the meeting will be Mrs. Curtis Laubner, president of the senior group. Mrs. James Riddle and Miss Mildred Wentz.

An evening meeting is planned for March 24 when members of the Guild will be in charge. For this meeting, scheduled for 7:30 o'clock, possibilities of mission work in Ceylon will be studied and discussed. A play will be given by members of the Guild and there will be a short panel summing up the highlights of the three meetings. The meeting will be in charge of Mrs. Mary Brown, president of the Guild, Mrs. M. S. Olson and Mrs. Robert Bruggeman.

BLUE CROSS BABY

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP)—Mrs. Ann Woodard Reid, 21, the first baby in the United States paid for by the Blue Cross hospital service plan, gave birth to an 8½-pound boy in Memorial Hospital Thursday. He also was born under the Blue Cross plan.

Rev. O. G. Lewis
Will Lead Emmanuel Service

'Gospel Artist' Will Appear at Marion Church

Rev. O. G. Lewis of Los Angeles, Calif., known as the "Gospel Artist," will open a three-day evangelistic Bible conference Monady night at Emmanuel Baptist Church in Marion. A painter, cartoonist and illustrator as well as speaker, he was before entering the ministry a commercial artist.

An unusual feature of the services in which he presents his messages of religious belief is the illustrating of hymns which he accomplishes by painting pictures based on each song. He reproduces many famous paintings while singing a selection appropriate to the theme of picture. His work has been televised in Hollywood and his paintings have been filmed in color as an educational aid by a moving picture library.

Included among the songs for which he produced illustrations are "In the Cross of Christ I Glory," "Day Is Dying in the West," "I'll Stand by Until the Morning," "The Stranger of Galilee," "The Mountain Railroad," "Take Time To Be Holly," "The Garden of Prayer," "Throw Out the Lifeline," "The Wayside Cross," "Old Galilee," "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere," and others. Time of the nightly public services at Emmanuel Church will be 7:30.

Morrow Heart Campaign Scheduled This Sunday

MOUNT GILEAD — Members of the "Heart Sunday Army" will ring doorbells in Morrow County villages this Sunday starting at 2 p.m. as the county heart fund campaign gets under way.

Headed by Mrs. Anna Matthews, county chairman, the captains are: Mrs. Lucinda Russell, Cardington; Mrs. Marion Burnell, Denmark; Mrs. Vera Kincade, Edison; Mrs. Doris Burns, Fulton; Mrs. Katharine Rinehart of Iberia, St. James, Iberia and Climax; Mrs. Elsie Tischer of Johnsville, North Woodbury, Johnsville, and Williamsport; Mrs. Lou Strain and Miss Sally Linville, Mount Gilead; and Mrs. Betty McMullin, Marengo.

Three-fourths of all the money collected during the campaign will remain in Ohio for research and education, while 25 per cent will go to the American Heart Association to aid in national scientific research, educational and public health programs.

Government Bids Listed At Local C. of C. Office

Contractors in the Marion area interested in bidding on work for the Army Ordnance Corps may obtain information on jobs at the Marion Chamber of Commerce office.

For the last month, the Chamber office, has been receiving daily reports on procurement requests, including the name of the originating Ordnance activity, identification numbers, bid closing date, complete descriptions of the projects and other information.

The information is sent here from the Cleveland Ordnance District main office, one of the principal purchasing offices of the Army Ordnance Corps.

NAMED C OF C HEAD

MOUNT GILEAD — Roland Campbell was elected president of the Mount Gilead Chamber of Commerce at the annual reorganization meeting held this week. He succeeds Jim Smith. Fred Taylor was elected vice president. Taylor, Don Curl and Chester Shirk are new members of the board of directors. They were elected to three-year terms.

Church Board To Study Proposed New Building

Plans for construction of a Fellowship Hall on property purchased recently by First Church of the Nazarene will be studied at a meeting of the official board Monday night.

This building, to be erected on the new lot on Kensington Rd., will be used by the congregation as a social room and will house also a second church for the denomination until a new church building can be constructed.

Arrangements are being made to start the project as soon as weather permits, Rev. L. L. Zimmerman, pastor of the First Church congregation, reported.

Dinner Slated Monday By Presbyterian Men

Feature for a program of the First Presbyterina Church Men's Club Monday night in the church recreation room will be moving pictures of the African big game hunt and trip to the Holy Lands taken by Marion Landes. This will be a dinner meeting at 6:30.

Those who find it impossible to be at the dinner but who may be free for the program hour will be welcome to attend, the pastor, Rev Irvin W. Emmons, said.

Older Youth To Meet

To launch an organization for older young people as a unit of the Marion Christian Youth Movement, a meeting has been set for 7 tonight at the YMCA. This will be for those over 18.

A film on the life of Christ will be shown, followed by recreation which will include swimming. Chairman for the event will be Lowell Schlecht. The MCYM is the youth division of the Marion County Council of Churches.

Keep Prices High Despite Plenty

'Rigged' Markets Nullify Supply and Demand Law

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Coffee and diamonds, sugar and tea, copper and rubber—each is testing in its own way the much-battered law of supply and demand.

There are price jumps or stock market flurries, and in some cases popular revolts among the womenfolks. Some even claim to sniff the storybook air of international intrigues hovering about the commodities.

The old law of supply and demand, according to the copy books, should set the price of a commodity. Let's see how the law is being observed in the case of the six commodities.

TAKE COFFEE. It's an international tug of war. At one end of the price rope is the American housewife, irritated when the price rose, and skeptical about the explanations given. At the other end are the Latin American coffee producing countries, trying to maintain prices by juggling foreign exchange rates, and then toppling the whole scheme by starting to undercut each other for the rich American market. Governmental regulation of the supply has kept the law from working freely.

Or look at tea. Its soaring price—three times higher than before World War II—has become a political issue in England. To bring the price down, as the British housewife is angrily demanding, the government says would mean price controls, subsidies, and rationing. The housewife just goes on thinking the price has been pushed artifically high.

SUGAR'S PRICE doesn't change much here because our government doesn't let it. The amount allowed to be brought in is held strictly to the expected demand. Just now domestic producers asking a larger share of the American market, while the outside producers, chiefly Cuba, want more rather than less. The world surplus of sugar would topple prices if the law of supply and demand operated.

Copper prices have been influenced both by producers and governments in recent months. Awhile back, when the price looked wobbly, American copper companies cut back production and prices held. Then strikes here and abroad cut supplies sharply just as demand began to rise, especially in Europe.

The law of supply and demand should have sent the price of copper up here. But the American companies tried to hold it down, fearing competition from cheaper aluminum. Since the United States doesn't produce all the copper it needs, and since higher prices in Europe lured the world supply there, a shortage developed here.

THE U.S GOVERNMENT, which has a finger in the price pie through its stock-piling policies (also used to keep the price of lead and zinc up) lent some of its copper to American users. But it wasn't enough, and the price here was raised to lure the foreign copper back.

Rubber's price gyrations are influenced by the international tensions in the Far East where it is produced. Fear of the Communists sends its price up, although world production outruns demand.

Acting as a price governor have been our government-built synthetic rubber factories. But they are passing into private hands now, and synthetic will be entering the realm where the law of supply and demand is supposed to be observed—if the governments, here and in the Far East, will let it.

The diamond's price is strictly controlled by an European cartel, which lets only enough of the gems onto the market to keep prices high. With General Electric now able to produce synthetic diamonds for industrial use—even if at a much higher price so far than that of the natural diamond—the time could come when the cartel's monopoly was challenged.

Even now, the tiny synthetic is big enough to send tremors through the prices of stocks of the European monopoly.

Breakfast from 8 to noon — Dinner from 12 to 7:30 P.M.

Why do so many people have Sunday dinner with us?

Time was when we served just a few Sunday dinners. Today we often serve from 100 to 200 between noon and 7:30 p.m. The answer is simple. Here every member of the family, from the little tots on up to grandmother and grandfather, may select just the dishes they like. In our spotless kitchen we are just as exacting about how each order is served as you are in your own home. And, finally, only the finest fruits, vegetables, fowl and meat obtainable are served. We will be looking forward to greeting you Sunday.

With encouragement from his parents and some fundamental scientific training this young man has learned a great deal about shells. He knows, for instance, that the ocean floor is covered with millions of living creatures which would be unable to survive without the protection of the shells in which they live.

With similar encouragement from his parents, and with some fundamental religious training, this young man will learn some far more useful truths about souls. He will learn, for instance, that God's highest creature—Man—lives in a moral environment just as hostile to his survival as that ocean floor, and that Man depends for his protection not on any outer armor, but on the inner being which God has taught him to call his soul.

And when our young man compares shells and souls he will discover that, just as God provides many of his lesser creatures with the means of building up and strengthening their shells, he provides Man with the Church, the Bible, and the Gift of Prayer to enable him to strengthen his soul.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Union Merger

By George Sokolsky

There was a time in the middle 1930's when it was possible to argue over the future of trade unionism in the United States. In the middle 1950's, that is no longer a moot question. The strong, well-financed, politically powerful trade union has become a norm of American life. About one-quarter of the American labor force, 15 million workers, belongs either to AF of L or CIO unions. To argue that these members are coerced into paying dues and striking against their will is to raise an unsolvable issue. There has been no demand on the part of any large group of workers that unions be abolished.

THE NEW AF OF L-CIO will not only represent an enormous concentration of manpower but several billion dollars of reserves, much of which is being invested in common stock, often in the particlar industry which the union serves.

No matter what has been said of the Taft-Hartley law, it has run from the 80th Congress to the 84th without change or amendment and has strengthened the unions.

The history of trade unionism in the United States will show that the Wagner law gave the unions a tremendous impetus, the Taft-Hartley law stabilized union procedure, and while in the political strategy of unionism it was felt necessary to denounce Taft-Hartley, the reason it was not abandoned has been that the unions did very well under it.

They have become enormously rich and if their wealth increases at the present pace, it will not be long before they come into possession of many industries, not by a socialist revolution but by the normally capitalist process of buying the shares of companies on the Stock Exchange.

The new national labor organization will be more powerful than either international union was during the period of competition between them. But with power must come responsibility.

THE AGREEMENT was correct in excluding racketeers and subversives, but that is not good enough. The racketeers need to be excluded actually and physically. All labor leaders know who they are and what unions they have invaded and which they control.

Similarly, the trade union leaders know who the Communists are and they do not strengthen public confidence by permitting unions expelled for having been led by subversives to return to American trade unionism by the back door of amalgamation with decent unions. That can only mean an open door for infiltration.

That many unions are accepting their responsibilities seriously is apparent in the publication of annual reports. But the democratic method of choosing union leadership is still to be hoped for and will undoubtedly come as the unions become more stabilized and businesslike.

IT IS ONE THING to manage a union that is struggling for its existence; it is another to run a union whose business operations involve several hundred million dollars — and the members know as much arithmetic as the leaders.

The criticism of the labor union therefore shifts from theorizing as to whether they should exist at all to objections to racketeering, subversion and unstable practices. The course fixed in the middle 1930's of a recognized American type of trade unionism regulated by Act of Congress and supervised by the National Labor Relations Board is now fixed in the American industrial system.

The remaining independent unions are not very different from AF of L-CIO unions and often are as great a trial to management. No large industry in the United States is without some type of union organization.

The fear of the merger then is unrelated to the industrial aspects of trade unionism but does arise from the uncertainty of the use of manpower and cash for political manipulation. While tight limitations are placed on political contributions of corporations and individuals, practically none are placed on the trade union or their related organizations.

THEY COULD corrupt the entire electoral process with their abundant tax-free dollars if they so chose. Furthermore, they could develop a class conscious political system which might be modeled after the British Labor party or become affiliated with international communism.

This fear could not have existed in the ear of Samuel Gompers; it merits thought and study these days when a doctrinaire socialist, such as Walter Reuther is, may be the effective leader of 15 million men. It is not altogether impossible that by 1960, this may be the prevailing issue in a presidential campaign.

Scientific Mind

By Victor Riesel

Explanation, please!

Prize winning nuclear scientist, Dr. Harold C. Urey, has just written that "The greatest danger to this country is a powerful revolutionary country, namely the U.S.S.R."

VICTOR RIESEL

Yet, in the same message, soon to be made public, this atomic expert speaks out for some convicted spies and a perjurer, Alger Hiss, who helped make the Soviet Union "the greater danger" to this country.

The atomic spies slipped to Russian intelligence the blueprint for the atomic trigger, the sky platform and the famed proximity fuse. Alger Hiss delivered the inner secrets of our diplomacy.

YET PROF. UREY, writing in the forthcoming edition of the "Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists" asks: "What is it that Alger Hiss . . . did that profoundly or even moderately put the U.S. in a less favorable position? How much damage have all the arrested and convicted agents actually done to the political and military position of the U.S.?"

Would it be too emotional to suggest that the answers come from the mothers of GIs dead in Korea, or the slave camps of the barbed-wire world in which scientists such as Dr. Urey freeze and starve to death because they disagree with The Regime?

In the same message from Dr. Urey, we see that he says that the way we handled the Rosenberg (atomic spy) trial makes him feel less secure for himself and his family.

We respect Prof. Urey's right to express himself so freely in words which would be howled down in the market place were they not written by one whose profession is viewed with awe by so many of us.

We do not respect his judgment in reflecting on men who are as skilled in their field as he is in his —namely the jurists of the U.S. Supreme Court who upheld the conviction of Hiss and the spies.

WE DO NOT RESPECT his taking the platform offered by a subsidiary of a pro-Communist agency devoted to a fight for the release of an Alcatraz prisoner by the name of Morton Sobell, a man who stole secrets from our nation for the benefit of what Urey himself describes as our greatest menace.

Most important is the unscientific approach to all this by scientist Harold Urey. He agreed to accept a testimonial dinner on Feb. 12, from something called the Chicago Sobell Committee, 20 West Jackson Boulevard, Room 1301, Chicago 4, Ill.

Why did not Prof. Urey use his research skill, so effective in the laboratory, to learn that this committee is a subsidiary of the National Committee To Secure Justice For Morton Sobell — which is successor to a similar committee in behalf of the convicted and executed atomic spies?

These committees were set up to smear the reputation of our land across the world. They use the same techniques, down even to the same exploitation of spies' innocent children who are dragged across the land for the sake of propaganda.

DID NOT UREY know that some of those who signed the imitation parchment paper scrolls given him by the subsidiary of the "National Rosenberg, Sobell Committee" are now bitter over being deceived into sponsoring what turned out to be a rally for a convicted spy and not merely a testimonial dinner?

We have spoken to one who signed such a scroll thinking he was adding his name merely to a list of persons honoring scientist Urey. This signer is the fighter for human rights, A. Philip Randolph, head of the AFL's Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters.

RANDOLPH IS "greatly disturbed" over the emphasis on the spies at the dinner to Urey. Randolph points out that he received an innocuous letter asking him to join in hailing Urey as a scholar.

At the time Randolph signed he did not know the names of the others.

"I signed a tribute to Dr. Urey as a distinguished scientist and scholar. I signed in good faith," Randolph told us.

"If any group then attempts to use my name and the name of my union for ulterior purposes — and especially pro-Communist purposes —they are doing something reprehensible. My union and I have been in the forefront of the fight against Communists and we deplore the fact that my sincere salute to a scholar is being unscrupulously and falsely twisted into an insinuation that we perhaps support this."

Surely now Urey will use his great talents as a scientist to investigate and expose all this.

Or will he?

Federal Judge Ralph M. Freeman freed the two on bond, pending a federal probation report.

30 Attend

Marion's Chapter Hears History of Cerebral Palsy

Approximately 30 persons attending a public meeting of the United Cerebral Palsy Association Friday night at the YMCA heard John F. McNulty of the national office and Mrs. Norman T. Auburn of Akron, president of the state organization.

Mrs. Auburn related to the group the steps she and five other parents of cerebral-palsied children took in Cincinnati five years ago to establish a treatment center. Since that time, 18 affiliates have been formed in Ohio, with Marion being the newest.

ANOTHER GROUP of women in New York was instrumental in getting the national association formed five years ago, McNulty told the Marion group. This group of five women raised $60,000 their first year, in comparison to the $8,250,000 raised last year. There are now 350 affiliates in all 48 of the states.

He attributed this phenomenal growth in the United Cerebral Palsy Association to its purpose of helping all cerebral-palsied persons. He estimated there are approximately 550,000 cerebral - palsied persons in the U. S., with approximately 10,000 born each year.

Past experience shows that there are about three cerebral-palsied persons in each 1,000 population, McNulty said. Thus, in a community the size of Marion, there would be about 120 to 150 cerebral-palsied, he said.

The three essential factors to the success of local affiliate, McNulty told the group, are community support, regular meetings and active committees and money.

Explaining that there are over 50 services that a Cerebral Palsy association can render to a community, McNulty emphasized that the group seeks to avoid duplicating services that exist in a community.

IN GENERAL discussion following the two talks, a question was raised as to where a local cerebral palsy program would in relation to the services rendered by the Crippled Children's Society.

Dr. Frank C. Vogt, president of the local Cerebral Palsy group, said he would arrange a meeting of the executive committees of the two organizations in the near future for the purpose of learning what is being done already and what remains to be done.

Richard Brandt, president of the Crippled Children's Society, attended the meeting last night.

It was announced that Dr. Donald H. MacPherson and Dr. Merritt K. Marshall are serving with Dr. Frederick W. Rea on the medical advisory committee of the local association.

Announcement was made of a state meeting scheduled Sunday in Youngstown and of a regional meeting set for March 5 and 6 in Indianapolis.

Boston's Beacon Hill section is so named because in early days a beacon was maintained on the hill to be lighted as a warning of approaching danger.

5 Auto Accidents Reported by Police

Five minor accidents, three of them involving damage of less than $100 were investigated by police Friday. State patrolmen from the Marion post and sheriff's deputies reported no accidents in the county.

At 7:40 p.m. a car parked in front of 938 Kenton Ave., owned by Donald L. Palmer, 33, of 26 Cottage St., was reported struck by a passing truck. Police identified the driver of the truck as Francis W. Kronk of 647 Fountain St.

Damage was done to the left rear fender of the car and to the right side of the truck. The mishap is still under investigation.

A Safety taxicap and a car collided at the corner of E. Center and State Sts. Friday at 6:52 p.m. Police reported the car, driven by John E. Bosh, 25, of 521 N. Greenwood St., was northbound on State St.

They also indicated the cab, driven by Leonard Mustard of 505 Euclid Ave., turned left from E. Center St. onto State St. and the two vehicles collided. Damage was done to the front end of the Bosh car and to the right side of the cab.

Woman Found Insane, Death Charge Dropped

BELVIDERE, N.J. (AP)—A count judge yesterday found Mrs. Bernice Makatura insane and a murder indictment against her—charging her with setting a fire which killed her infant son—was dropped.

Her 8-month-old son, Stephen Jr., was fatally burned Feb. 7 in a crib fire which police say the mother admitted starting. Psychiatrists said she did not know right from wrong.

'Despotic Disarray'

When Secretary of State Dulles used the phrase "despotic disarray" to describe the fast shuffle in the Kremlin hierarchy, he put his finger on the great weakness that has emerged in the Soviet Union under the dictatorship of the Communist party.

Each new shuffle is intended to leave the impression that order finally has been brought out of chaos. But as the shuffling continues, it leaves an opposite impression — that chaos itself is the only permanent chracteristic of one-party dictatorship.

There is no prescribed method of succession to power in the Kremlin. Sovereignty, instead of residing in the population of Russia, resides in the dictatorship itself. And inside the dictatorship it resides in whichever clique of politicans can gain the upper hand through intrigue and violence.

The instant that Bulganin was istalled as premier in the newest shuffle, an intrigue to unseat him and his backers began. Even Stalin, himself, the strong man of the Communist dictatorship, was forced to maintain himself by endless counter-intrigues to kill his enemies before they could kill him.

Whether or not he was brought to his own death prematurely by their connivance is beside the point. Long before he died, intrigues to cut down the authority of his successor were well developed.

The next overthrow is never any further away than the next successful intrigue. For every one that succeeds, an unknown number fail, marked only by the execution of their ring leaders.

It is conceivable that the Soviet Union may survive in spite of its betrayal by the one-party dictators of the Kremlin. But it is no longer conceivable that the Soviet Union will survive because of one-party dictatorship.

Its "despotic disarray" is now visible to the whole world — a sign of internal weakness that makes the uncertainty of French parliamentarianism look like a rock of Gibraltar by comparison.

Why the Paper Work?

A thumping vote of approval by the House of Representatives for a $10,000 pay raise and the certainty that the Senate will vote likewise, with hearty presidential approval, disposes of the issue, as far as the current Congress is concerned.

But now that the matter has been settled —or nearly so—there is a question about the means of settling it.

Instead of voting themselves an increase in pay and figuring out income taxes on a new earned income basis, congressmen could have chosen to explore an alternative method that would be more logical.

They could have looked into the possibility of making federal salaries free from federal income taxes. If that were to be done, hundreds of thousands of federal employes whose income tax returns now must be shuffled by the Internal Revenue Bureau would be paid across the board.

The government would save itself the cost of processing their tax returns, plus the outlay of money which it then must turn around and collect back from its own employes.

A federal employe owes the same obligation to support the government as a citizen who gets his income from some other source, but a vast amount of paper shuffling and figure juggling could be eliminated by setting up federal pay scales on a tax-free basis and withholding the employe's taxes in advance, so to speak.

The net effect would be a much smaller federal item for payroll. A congressman who would draw $22,500, for instance, subject to taxation, could do nicely on a much smaller amount if no taxes were due. And since the taxes amount to taking money out of one pocket and transferring it to another, the wear and tear on the government's pockets would be saved, to boot.

One Way To Freeze School Costs

As members of the Ohio General Assembly square away for their biennial battle over the rising costs of a state school equalization program, there is one useful piece of information they might bear in mind.

It has been useful in every Ohio school district that has been embroiled in the battle over the rising costs of education. It is a way of looking at the cost of education in reverse, so to speak.

Education costs would quit rising if people would quit having more children and quit expecting more and better education for children. As it is, the birth rate and demand for more and better education are both so far ahead of public willingness to pay the price of public progress that education's shortcomings are a scandal and disgrace in hundreds of Ohio school districts. This argument has been used over and over again in presenting the need for local support in school districts, throughout the state.

A dairy farmer who keeps adding to the size of his dairy herd and upgrading his breeding stock expects his costs to rise accordingly. A hotel proprietor whose guest registration kept growing and expecting better service expects his cost to rise accordingly.

Only in public affairs is it hard to understand why more people and more service should cost more money.

Religion In and On the Job

Your Job During Lent

By EUGENE CARR

The Lenten Season leads us into Holy Week, Good Friday and Easter. It is a time marked by special -religious observance—daily noontime devotions, prayer services, evening vespers. It is a time when deep faith becomes deeper, when even casual faith takes on more purpose.

Surely the meaning of Lent isn't confined to a few additional minutes in church! Surely we do not prepare ourselves for Holy Week with one more prayer each day! There is—there must be—a meaning to Lent in our everyday occupational contacts, in and on the job.

There is much in the application of Lent to our religious life that can be applied to our occupation. In fact, it can all be applied.

We can give up to others in an unselfish bid to be helpful. We can rededicate ourselves to the principles of honesty and fairness

We can be tolerant of mistakes and carry less doubt and apprehension. We can go out of our way to correct a misunderstanding.

We can look to each day with a sense of achievement. We can renew our efforts to fulfil God's plan for us.

Why should this one time of the year be extra important in the application of these principles?

It shouldn't. Any time of the year is important. Summer, fall or winter, we need our religion as much as in spring. With some regularity most of us stop along the way and take a good look at ourselves. At specific times, such as this, we need to take an extra long look.

On July Fourth we rededicate ourselves to our Country. On Thanksgiving we reaffirm our gratitude for abundance. On January First we start the New Year with new hope. We observe significant dates in history—birthdays and deaths of great men and women, events marked by defeat or victory, sacrifices of life, consecration of an ideal.

Lent is just such a time, when we need to stop along the way and consider the significance of Holy Week, the sacrifice of Good Friday, the victory of Easter. It's a time of rededication, reaffirmation, renewed hope.

But observing Lent isn't a part-time job. It calls for fulltime application, and includes the hours of the workday and the days of the workweek.

Dear Nephew: When we received your letter about going to the hospital for a carburetor adjustment, we put in a phone call right away but no one was home so we slept on the proposition. This morning we talked it over and decided not to bother you with a call. What is there to say?

We'll be keeping in touch with developments and wish you luck. As you explain it, however, there isn't likely to be anything to report right away. The proof of the pudding will come in the eating, hey?

Your aunt says she always has been suspicious of your gall bladder. The first time she noticed anything wrong was when you turned green after eating a two-pound Easter egg at the age of 7. She figured right then that you hadn't inherited the goatlike digestion of your forebears.

She had her suspicions stirred again the night you came home to die after you swallowed the cud of chewing tobacco during football practice when you were a sophomore in high school. Remember how we found you sitting in front of the furnace in the basement, waiting for the end?

Your ancestors had been eating tobacco for generations before that, and it is not in the annals anywhere that any of them so much as twitched a gullet. It was plain to be seen then and there that you had your gastronomic limitations.

Another thing that pointed in the same direction was your attitude toward cucumbers. While I will grant you that a hog won't eat cucumbers, unless they are sneaked past his snout, everybody else on your family tree seems to have been able to handle cucumbers without a rift in the lute. Yet you couldn't handle them.

So it is for the best that you have this weakness in your digestive apparatus straightened out before it handicaps you any further. Next thing you know, you might have to quit eating cold turkey dressing for midnight snacks and raiding trays at cocktail parties for anchovies.

According to your letter, that was how you finally were forced to the conclusion that something wasn't working the way it was supposed to—when you ate leftover anchovies for breakfast during the Christmas holidays. While I can eat 'em or let 'em alone, anyone who can't eat a couple dozen anchovies for breakfast is in bad shape.

You always were finicky about breakfast, though. I remember how you used to willy out on me when you came to the sixth flannel cake, or sour buckwheat, whichever we were having. I never did get you to eat more than four eggs for a warmup, and the best day you ever lived you bogged down on a foot of sausage.

As for mince pie, you always thought it was something to be eaten in the evening, which just goes to show. After two pieces of mince pie with a couple wedges of cheese, even I have been known to wonder at bedtime if I am beginning to lose my appetite. Pie is for breakfast. Cake is for after-dark eating.

Your aunt tells me she does not think this kind of talk is in good taste, but you will understand what I'm driving at. For the sake of the family's good name, we can't afford to have anyone in circulation who is diffident about food.

You get your carburetor adjusted and your fuel line straightened I am sorry you are going to be unable to come up for the maple syrup season, but we'll send you a few gallons to keep you in touch with the good things of life.

And we'll keep in touch by telephone until you are able to hold a typewriter on your lap — ouch! Regards to all, but this time to you especially.

Dulles Builds Platform of Idealism

By David Lawrence

Most of the emphasis in the news nowadays is on the Far East, so it is natural that the discussion on Wednesday night by Secretary Dulles about the islands off the coast of China received primary attention but the fact is there was something far more sensational to be read between the lines of the same address. It was the subtle yet deliberate approach to the people of Soviet Russia over the head of the existing government.

In times like these, speeches by the secretary of state are not casual affairs. They have their genesis in memoranda prepared after many hours of consultation by planning staffs and specialists in particular fields of international affairs. So what Dulles said to the people of Soviet Russia—for his speech was widely broadcast throughout the world — is especially significant because of its deliberateness.

He declared with respect to the recent repudiation of Malenkov as premier:

"Undoubtedly what we see is in part an elemental, personal struggle for power. But also one can perceive the outlines of a basic policy difference. There must, in Russia, be those who are primarily concerned with the welfare, the security and the greatness of the Soviet Union and its people.

"THERE ARE OTHERS who would have the Soviet Union and its power serve primarily as a tool of international communism and as a means of achieving its world-wide ambitions.

"These two ends, the one symbolized by the state and the other by the Communist party, do not always coincide.

"To us, the party and the state in Russia usually seems indistinguishable, because many individuals serve in dual capacities. But Lenin and Stalin constantly emphasized the distinction between the two. 'The party,' said Stalin, 'is not and cannot be identified with the state power.'

"We also should keep that distinction in mind. The time may come—and I believe that it will come—when Russians of stature will patriotically put first their national security and the welfare of their own people. They will be unwilling to have that security and that welfare subordinated to the worldwide ambitions of international communism.

"If their point of view should prevail, then, indeed, there could be a basis for worthwhile negotiation and practical agreements between the United States and the new Russia. Then there might be reactivated the historic friendship between our countries and our peoples."

The foregoing paragraphs constitute a masterpiece of diplomatic expression and could have a tremendous influence on the course of world affairs if they are given the emphasis abroad that they deserve.

IT WILL BE NOTED that Dulles plainly calls for a reawakening of Russian patriotism, a return to the spirit of national pride which enabled the government of Moscow in past generations to play a vital role in the maintenance of the peace of Europe.

The distinction is clear — the Communist party is not satisfied to confine its ideology to Soviet Russia but must carry on a "cold war" and engage in tactics of infiltration to undermine all the other governments of the world in what has become known as Communist imperialism. But there are men—Dulles calls them "Russians of stature"—who will "patriotically put first their national security and the welfare of their people."

Who are the men to emerge as leaders in that movement? Dulles mentions no names, but one wonders if he wasn't thinking of a group which is typified by Marshal Zhukov, who, like other military men, fought solely to defend Russia and who now look askance at meddling beyond Russia's own borders in a worldwide conspiracy that can only lead to eventual war.

What Secretary Dulles is calling for is the rise of a government in what he terms "the new Russia." This, he says, would bring a "basis for worthwhile negotiation and practical agreements between the United States and the new Russia"

THIS IS A BETTER formula than "coexistence," because it does not assume a continued domination of the satellite states nor the continued oppression of the masses in Soviet Russia with armament burdens. It implies also the establishment some day of a free government in Moscow, or at least one that is not ruled by a dominant political party which is so tied into the government as to commit it to worldwide imperialism aimed at the conquest of other peoples.

The speech by Dulles lays down a platform which ought to have the enthusiastic support of our allies and bring great encouragement to the people behind the Iron Curtain.

Dictators and Dopesters

By Raymond Moley

In the very early morning of Feb. 8 thousands of machines were ticking away in newsrooms over the country grinding out items of no great importance. It was like almost every morning of the year. Suddenly there leaped out of the trivia the astounding news that Malenkov had resigned.

That loosed a flood of speculation, all to the effect that this meant that Khrushchev would succeed him. Nobody seemed to be willing to admit a doubt except perhaps to qualify the prediction by saying "succeed to power." Then for some time there was comment about Khrushchev and about Malenkov's humiliating explanation of the reasons for his resignation.

The speculation about Khrushchev began at 7:08 a.m. and ran on until 8:04 a.m. when somebody made the guess that Molotov and Khrushchev jointly might rule. Hardly had this been spelled out when at 8:07 a.m. it was announced that Khrushchev had announced the choice of Bulganin.

All of which shows how perilous it is to predict what will happen in a dictatorship.

Last week a Russian "expert" said in print for American readers that under the fat, pasty exterior of Malenkov there was a man of steel who, despite the pretensions of Khrushchev, would emerge victorious.

Which suggests that "experts" may be wrong.

Two years ago a wise commentator, who knew some of the inexorable rules of history and of human nature, said that instead of trying to fathom the future course of Russian policy by scanning the news reports and gossip from capitals of Europe, he reread the first few chapters of the story of another dictatorship. Gibbon's "The Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire."

There he saw once more the evidence that "the wages of dictatorship is death and dissolution." He added that power not only corrupts the man who exercises it but all those who wish to share or to possess it. This he concluded will possess the members of the oligarchy which prevailed after the death of Stalin.

Emperor after emperor succeeded each other in the Roman Empire after Augustus with a constant weakening of the essential fiber of the state. The military ultimately held the power and sold the throne, like a bit of ornamental pageantry, to the highest bidder.

The truth of that observation has been revealed over and over since it was made. Beria sought power too soon and was destroyed. The economic system failed to respond, as Marxian dogma decreed and the masses became restless.

Malenkov promised and promised more food, more consumers goods, and at the same time muttered threats about how his military power was rising.

Now he confesses failure and with that the admission of his own falsehoods. The army rises to greater power as it must in such a state. For it is only armed strength that can keep down unrest within Russia and the satellites.

Perhaps this change to Bulganin means that the die of war may be cast, perhaps not. No one can tell. All that we can tell is that time is on our side.

The end of Malenkov does not mean that ambition and intrigue are asleep. Rather it means that the macabre round must go on with one dictator after another until all order and cohesion will vanish. I repeat, that without war, time is on our side.

Adventure

Supermarket shopping has been a closed book to us as we are strictly a "Let the wife do it" man. But the other day, the Missus being ill, we were ordered to the groceries front and it flabbergasted us. . .Here you meet woman in her tensest, more aggressive and wholly resolute mood. She combines the features of Diana, the huntress, Carrie Nation, Mollie Pitcher, Calamity Jane and Olga the Lady Wrestler. Also a little of Adm. Farragut in his "Damn the torpedoes; full speed ahead" mood; and that of Gen. Grant when he said, "I propose to fight it out on this line if it takes all summer."

Here you see her as a quartermaster sergeant. She is a throwback to the covered-wagon era, all set to plug a buffalo if necessary to provision the wagon, dress a bear in a pinch and fight Indians for survival if necessary.

In a chain store milady's radiance fades. Glamor gives way to the combat mood. Charm takes a back seat for rugged individuals. The polite, very considerate gal gives way to the stern-faced, flat-footed provisioner of an Arctic expedition. Shoving a steel wagon, she treks aisle by aisle inspecting, analyzing, checking and double-checking.

"Don't tread on me" is her motto. We watched a typical chainstore shopper the other day as she chose a packaged steak. She studied the supply array intently and seemed to be weighing a major problem. . .She picked up one, held it at arm's length, gave it a close-up and rejected it with reluctance.

She picked up another, examined it with the skepticism of a scientist who has dug up something unusual, viewed it northwest, by southeast and put it on the bottom of the pile, as she selected another which she gazed on with the reverence usually associated with an inspection of a treasured family portrait. She held it at varying distances, went over it from all points of the compass, looked at it sideways and head-on and seemed about to give it approval, but suddenly — slappo! — it went to the bottom of the pile.

She continued to examine the steaks for what seemed an eternity, and then, abruptly, dropped the idea of red meat and moved to the fish exhibit. She seemed entranced by a slice of halibut but after examining it with all the care of an inspector from the Bureau of Fisheries she filed it in another pile and picked up some swordfish about which she seemed moderately perplexed.

Another woman came along and the two of them began lifting, moving and redepositing cod and mackerel as if in the game of checkers. Mrs. A, it seemed to me, made the wrong move with her flounder and was jumped by Mrs. B, with her slab of Boston Blue. Mrs. B. was far ahead when I last looked Mrs. A. had moved on to the canned goods.

Later I saw her among the cheeses. She had pawed over 14 different kinds and seemed about to settle for some Gorganzola when she very suddenly picked some Liederkranz and moved on to the vegetables, still acting in the manner of a dramatic critic. I rather hoped she might favor me with a copy of her review of a promising head of cabbage and some sweet potatoes which, it seemed to me, showed promise. But—presto — she was among the breads and pastries. (We gave up exhausted.)

The government is suing to stop a merger of Schenely and Park & Tilford. . .This can settle the question whether a highball is a part of interstate commerce and whether drinking is a sport or a business. . .(When the judge hands down a decision it would be fun if he refused a complete verdict and handed down a fifth.)

We always wonder what a dog at a dog show thinks about the conformation and coat of its owner.

Cincinnati has provided reserved seats on busses. . .This impresses us as the trick of the year. . . What we want to see is a situation in which a bus patron fights his way aboard, taps a seat occupant on the shoulder and says, "Pardon me, but you're in my seat!"

Art Linkletter is a TV master of ceremonies known chiefly to the women's afternoon trade, but on an evening program he would make most of the big stars seem minor leaguers in general appeal.

Previews of the Coming Attractions at the Local Theaters

HOWARD KEEL as the Carthaginian general Hannibal is captivated by his captive, the seductive Roman girl, Amytis, portrayed by Esther Williams, in this scene from the new Cinemascope musical in color, "Jupiter's Darling." It will be the feature attraction of a double billing Sunday through Wednesday at the Palace Theater.

'Jupiter's Darling' Will Be Featured At Palace Theater

"Jupiter's Darling," a new Cinamascope musical in color co-starring Esther Williams, Howard Keel, Marge and Gower Champion and George Sanders, will be the main attraction of a double feature Sunday through Wednesday at the Palace Theater.

Completing the billing will be "Race for Life."

"Jupiter's Darling" unfolds a laugh, song and dance-filled satire on Rome, 216 B.C. Esther Williams enacts the Roman beauty, Amytis, whose only reason for promising to marry the dull dictator, Fabius Maximus (George Sanders) is that she can't face the alternative—that of becoming a Vestal Virgin.

Fascinated by the tales she has heard about Hannibal, portrayed by Howard Keel, the general who is about to attack Rome, Amytis is driven by curiosity to the edge of his camp. When she is captured, she makes a last request of Hannibal—that the general spare the city. She offers to lead him to a hilltop where she can prove capturing the city is not worth the trouble. Before long Hannibal is not surveying Rome, but Amytis, and Fabius finds he is unprepared to defend either his fiancee or his city from the advances of Hannibal.

Billed for Thursday through Saturday will be another double feature, "Many Rivers To Cross" and "Operation Manhunt." The former stars Robert Taylor and Eleanor Parker, and heading the cast in the latter are Harry Townes and Irja Jensen.

Filmed in color and Cinemascope, "Many Rivers To Cross" is concerned with a woman-shy Kentucky trapper who can take on half a dozen deadly Indians single-handed but who meets his Waterloo when he tries to avoid capture at the hands of a determined and predatory 1798 pioneer girl. In the supporting cast are Victor McLaglen, Russ Tamblyn, Jeff Richards and James Arness.

"Operation Manhunt," filmed entirely on location in Canada, is the authentic, documented story of Igor Gouzenko, the former Russian code clerk whose sensational revelations helped smash the giant Soviet atom espionage ring.

Tuesday - Wednesday — "Fort O'Sage" and "Safari Drums."

Thursday - Friday — "Tall In the Saddle" and "Tromba, the Tiger Man."

Saturday — "Men of the Fighting Lady" and "Wagons West."

OHIO

Now playing through Monday — "White Feather" starring Robert Wagner, John Lund, Debra Paget and Jeffrey Hunter, and "Pride of the Blue Grass" with Lloyd Bridges, Vera Miles and Margaret Sheridan. Sneak preview tonight.

Tuesday afternoon only — Cartoon show.

Tuesday - Wednesday — "Behind Closed Shutters" starring Eleonora Rossi Drago, and "Lure of the Silva" with Silvana Mangano.

Thursday - Saturday — "Women's Prison" starring Ida Lupino, Jan Sterling, Cleo Moore, Audrey Totter, Phyllis Thaxter and Howard Duff, and "Wyoming Renegades" with Phil Carey, Gene Evans, Martha Hyer and William Bishop.

The attractions Thursday through Saturday will be "The Naked Spur" and "Francis Joins the Wacs."

Starring James Stewart, Janet Leigh, Robert Ryan and Ralph Meeker, "The Naked Spur" is an adventure drama of three men who are motivated by greed in joining up to track down a fugitive with a price on his head. James Stewart plays the man who pursues Robert Ryan half way across the country in the hope of cashing in on the $15,000 reward offered for the killer, dead or alive. Meeker and Mitchell, the first a discredited soldier and the second a gold prospector, are the two who join forces with Stewart, with Janet Leigh as the girl who becomes a pawn in a game in which each of the men attempts to outwit the other.

The latter picture deals with the disadventures of Donald O'Connor, erroniously assigned to the "ladies' army" and, with the help of Francis, training the gals to outmaneuvre male soldiers in a camouflage field test.

Marion Theater Books 'Across Wide Missouri'

"Across the Wide Missouri," a technicolor outdoor drama starring Clark Gable, Ricardo Montalban, John Hodiak and Adolphe Menjou, and "Ride, Vaquero" will open in a midnight show tonight at the Marion Theater and continue through Monday.

The former is concerned with a fur trapper of the early West whose determination to blaze a trail through the wilderness faces him against Indian battles and a series of thrilling adventures.

Billed for Tuesday and Wednesday are "The Bad and the Beautiful" and "Playgirl." The former stars Lana Turner, Kirk Douglas, Walter Pidgeon and Dick Powell, and heading the cast in the latter are Shelley Winters and Barry Sullivan.

"The Bad and the Beautiful" is concerned with the story of Jonathan Shields, who started on a shoestring, built up his movie studio to be the greatest in Hollywood and who in the process molded and twisted the lives of the woman who loved him, his best friend and a complete stranger.

State Has 'Gunfighters' With 'Bengal Brigade'

"Bengal Brigade" starring Rock Hudson and Arlene Dahl, and "Gunfighters" with Randolph Scott and Barbara Britton, will be shown Sunday and Monday at the State Theater. Both are in technicolor.

Billed for Tuesday and Wednesday are "Fort O'Sage" and "Safari Drums." The former stars Rod Cameron and Jane Nigh, and heading the cast in the latter are Johnny Sheffield and Barbara Bestor.

John Wayne and Ella Raines are stars of the film, "Tall In the Saddle," which will be the main attraction of the double feature Thursday and Friday. Completing the billing will be "Tromba the Tiger Man" featuring the entire Krona Circus.

Saturday only, the attractions will be "Men of the Fighting Lady" starring Van Johnson and Dewey Martin, and "Wagons West" with Rod Cameron and Peggy Castle.

Ohio Theater Has 'White Feather' as Feature Attraction

"White Feather," a frontier epic about the surrender of the Cheyenne Indians to the white men which took place in Wyoming in the 1870's, is the main attraction of the current double feature at the Ohio Theater. Starred are Robert Wagner, John Lund, Debra Paget and Jeffrey Hunter. A sneak preview also will be shown tonight.

In "White Feather," a Cinemascope film in technicolor, Robert Wagner portrays a young surveyor who comes to the West and befriends the Indians through his display of great bravery. He uses his friendship to almost singlehandedly effect a peace between the Indians and the white men.

Completing the billing through Monday is "Pride of the Blue Grass with Lloyd Bridges, Vera Vera Miles arrives at the track, Jim Nolan, Lloyd Bridges is successful as a trainer of race horses in the claiming class who hopes some day to get a contract from a large stable of stakes winners. era Miles arrives at the track, bringing a horse name Gypsy Prince. She is looking for Pop Wilson, whom she and her late father knew as a trainer but who now is merely Jim's stable boss. Jim reluctantly stables Gypsy Prince and the horse later becomes a winner.

Tuesday afternoon, a special cartoon show has been scheduled by the management of the theater.

Billed for Tuesday and Wednesday is a double feature, "Behind Closed Shutters" and "Lure of the Silva," both American language releases from Italy.

Starring Eleonora Rossi Drago, Massimo Girotti and Giulietta Masina, the former traces the search for a girl who has been mysteriously swallowed up in the underworld. The latter, starring Silvana Mangano, is a legendary tale of a father and son competing for the love of a girl who, seeking vengeance for her brother's death, lures them to an unexpected climax.

Thursday through Saturday, a double billing will include "Women's Prison" starring Ida Lupino, Jan Sterling, Cleo Moore, Audrey Totter, Phyllis Thaxter and Howard Duff, and "Wyoming Renegades" with Phil Carey, Gene Evans, Martha Hyer and William Bishop.

The former is a story of a man-smuggling affair inside a prison for women, where a sadistic superintendent mentally and physically tortures the women prisoners in her care, to the point where they finally revolt.

The latter film tells how the women of the frontier town of Broken Bow took up arms against an outlaw band.

BUY NEW EQUIPMENT

BUCYRUS — Crawford County Commissioners here have approved the purchases of a machine to reproduce drawings for the county engineer's office and two filing cabinets for the county auditor's office. The engineer's blue line machine will cost $1,395 with the sale being made by B. K. Elliott, Cleveland. Cost of the filing cabinets is $315. They are being purchased from the Fisher Printing Co., Galion.

News of the District

Galion

The streams of Ohio ran red with blood in its early history—and Ohio has more history per square foot than any other state in the nation, were pertinent facts revealed in an address here Thursday night by Robert Wheeler. He is field representative of the Ohio Historical Society and also secretary of the Ohio Historical Markers committee. Wheeler's address "Our Historical Heritage," was a feature of the annual guest night dinner meetin gof Olentangy Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, held at Hotel Talbott.

Upper Sandusky

Mr. and Mrs. William Brewer of Kirby are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Grace Kathleen, to Cpl. John Murray, son of Oliver Murray of Lafayette.

The wedding will be an event of March in St. Mary's Catholic Church in Kirby.

Bucyrus

Mr. and Mrs. Pearson Linn of near Bucyrus are announcing the approaching marriage of their daughter, Pauline, to Edward Limbach, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Limbach of Hartville, O.

The wedding will take place at 7:30 p.m. on Saturday, June 18, in Grace Evangelical United Brethren Church here.

Miss Linn is a junior at Heidelberg College in Tiffin. Mr. Hartville will graduate in June from Heidelberg.

Ashley

Mrs. Elmer Main was hostess to the Leonardsburg Mission at her home near Ashley Wednesday. A quilt was presented to a needy family.

HEADS CRAWFORD BANKERS

BUCYRUS — At the annual meeting of the Crawford County Bankers' Association Wednesday night at Tiro, Robert C. Taylor, assistant cashier of the First National Bank of Crestline, was elected chairman. He succeeds C. F. Zimmerman, vice president and cashier of the First National Bank in Galion. Other officers are: vice chairman, Charles H. Lucas, cashier of the Farmers State Bank in New Washington; secretary, Charles L. Wiles Jr., president of the First National Bank of Bucyrus.

Los Angeles Dedicates World's Most Modern Polio Hospital

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The world's most modern polio hospital was dedicated Friday. The 4½ million dollar edifice is largely a monument to the civic devotion of a movie magnate who once watched helplessly as his daughter lay near death in an overcrowded polio ward.

The eight - story communicable diseases unit of the Los Angeles County General Hospital will be in use in another month or so.

Although taxpayers footed the bill through a bond issue, doctors and hospital officials give much of the credit to Don Hartman, head of production at Paramount Pictures.

In 1948, an epidemic year, Hartman's eldest daughter, Mima, then 17, was confined to the overcrowded polio ward at General Hospital.

After she recovered, her father and James Simmons, an airline executive who also had relatives in the ward, formed a citizens committee to get a bond issue passed for a new hospital.

"Our only job," Hartman recalls, "was to overcome apathy."

Hartman, a former screenwriter, wrote a moving script containing a short plea. He got MGM to film it and Cary Grant to star in it. Fox West Coast Theaters distributed it.

The film powerfully contrasted plans for the new hospital with the overcrowding in the old polio ward.

Hartman organized other stars into speaking teams to plug for the bonds. But mostly Hartman pounded doors himself.

The hospital, 27 months in the buidling, will care for 256 patients, three to a room—with no wards.

U. S. farm families use about the same percentage of their incomes in the purchase of food as do city families, says the Twentieth Century Fund.

Defense Seeks New Trial in Kidnap Case

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Declaring new evidence has been uncovered, attorneys for 26-year-old Charles F. Noonan, convicted kidnaper, have asked for a new trial

Noonan, formerly of Columbus, was convicted Wednesday of forcing Mrs Kathryn Lang, 26, of Homestead Park, Pa , to accompany him last Dec 3 on a drive from Pittsburgh to Cambridge Ohio, in her car He was convicted also of transporting a stolen vehicle across a state line

In asking federal court here for a new trial Noonan's attorneys said yesterday they had "newly discovered evidence" and charged the court erred in refusing to admit "material" evidence offered by the defendant and also in admitting testimony they said was prejudicial to the defendant

Court officials said sentence will not be passed by Judge Mell G Underwood until the motion for a new trial is disposed of Noonan is held in City Prison

Sherman Adams Meets With Republican Chiefs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican state chairmen from 14 states, headed by Ray C Bliss of Akron Ohio, yesterday met with Sherman Adams, chief assistant to President Eisenhower Adams said the group discussed ways of strengthening party organization for 1956 Bliss, who heads the Mid west and Rocky Mountain State Chairmen's Assn , said he was "pleased" with results of the meeting The group said the question of whether President Eisenhower would be a candidate for a second term was not discussed

Ex-POW Went Too Far, Says Former Fellow War Prisoner

FT BRAGG N C (AP)—A Marine officer who was a prisoner of war in Korea testified here yesterday at the general court martial of M Sgt William H Olson that in his opinion Olson overstepped a policy of passive resistance fellow prisoners were advised to follow

Lt Col John McLaughlin told the court that Olson and Joseph Hammond of Toledo, Ohio, were the most active prisoners in their camp in cooperating with the Chinese Reds

Olson 40 a veteran of 20 years of Army service is charged with collaborating with the enemy by informing on fellow prisoners writing a newspaper article and making speeches derogatory to the United States, writing a surrender leaflet and urging fellow prisoners to sign peace petitions

Witnesses said McLaughlin advised fellow prisoners to do nothing that would be detrimental to fellow prisoners or their country but to pretend to go along with the Reds offering passive resistance to Chinese efforts to indoctrinate them into communism

But McLaughlin testified he thought Olson and Hammond exceeded the passive resistance policy

Hammond who is not charged now is a civilian student at the University of Toledo He said he thought Olson was the most active in cooperating with the enemy, but admitted that he (Hammond) was the second most active

Hammond, involved in some trouble with other witnesses a few days ago left the trial under escort Proceedings were recessed until Monday

Solemn Ceremony

Rites Mark Anniversary Of Landing on Iwo Jima

Joe Rosenthal, who as an AP photographer took the classic picture of U.S. Marines raising the flag on Iwo Jima's Mt. Suribachi, returned to the island today for a simple service commemorating the 10th anniversary of the American landing Rosenthal, now with the San Francisco Chronicle, describes it in the following dispatch.

By JOE ROSENTHAL

IWO JIMA (AP) — Air Force men manning Iwo Jima stood on the heights of Suribachi this morning and paid homage to the Marines living and dead who fought a vicious battle here 10 years ago.

The ceremony was solemn, beautiful and brief

Clouds cleared, and it was mild weather as on D-day.

Protestant Chaplain Harold D Jester, Philadelphia, gave the opening invocation.

The island commander, Lt Gen Thomas D White, Pittsburg, Kan , spoke next

"It's now 9 02 a m , marking the exact moment when the Marines were hitting the beach you see below," he said

"Four days later they were standing where we stand raising the American flag The lives that were sacrificed went to save lives five times their number From then on the Black Pearl (Iwo) has served as a haven for aircraft and shipping and we are proud to carry on the job the Marines started "

A seaman, an airman and a Marine represented the armed services

No Marines man Iwo now, but four Marines from the Guam guard detachment were guests One of them, Cpl Glenn Beeser ,6 Medford ,Okla raa , Pteer lupH 26, Medford, Okla , a Purple Heart veteran from Korea's Heartbreak Ridge and Bunker Hill, placed a wreath fashioned of local growth at the monument atop the 546-foot volcano

Taps were played by Airman 2c Chrostopher Wise, Poughkeepsie, N Y.

Volleys were fired by an honor guard of the 641th Air Base Squadron

Catholic Chaplain Ralph Aschoff, Wilkes-Barre, Pa , closed with benediction

Then we went down to walk in the sand and the surprising covering of green tall grass and plantings and to think of gallant men.

SMOKE CAUSES FATALITY

CINCINNATI (AP)—A woman attendant admitted today she was smoking a cigarette while changing the bed linens of an elderly patient, Fire Marshal Peter Weron reported The bedfast patient, Mrs Rose Levi, was burned fatally Another patient in the rest home for elderly persons helplessly watched the flames until the attendent returned to the room

Appeals Court Studies Protest Of Secret Trial

Cleveland Newspapers Present Case Against Closed Door Hearings

CLEVELAND (AP) — An appellate court, asked by three Cleveland daily newspapers to stop a common pleas judge from keeping reporters out of a pandering trial, has deferred decision in the case.

After a day-long hearing yesterday, the court of appeals granted counsel for Common Pleas Judge Parker Fulton time to submit legal citations, before taking the case under advisement.

Trial Held Feb. 11

Judge Fulton ordered spectators and reporters out of his courtroom last Feb. 11, during testimony of a 21-year-old woman in the trial of three persons accused of leading her into prostitution. The defendants, who signed waivers of their rights to a public trial, were later convicted.

The newspapers, the News, Pla Dealer and Press, asked the appeals court to issue a writ of prohibition against Judge Fulton.

Attorneys for the newspapers contend the judge's action violates constitutional rights of both the press and the public.

Judge Fulton's lawyers, at the hearing yesterday, raised procedural questions, including whether the issue were not now moot because the pandering trial has ended, whether the appellate court has jurisdiction in the case, and whether an application for the writ of prohibition is the proper instrument in settling the issues.

Transcripts Shown Reporters

Counsel for the judge, who was absent from the hearings, argued that constitutional issues were not involved, and that since stenographic records of the pandering trial were taken, and a jury, judge, detectives, prosecutor and bailiff were present, the trial was not a secret one.

The trial transcripts were later given to reporters.

The judge's lawyers also said that since defendants have the right to a public trial, the right can be waived.

Attorneys for the newspapers argued that papers and the public have the right "to know what is going on in their courts," even though some spectators may be barred from a courtroom under special circumstances.

The Constitution guarantees the right to a public trial, but it does not follow that the accused has a corresponding right to a secret trial, the lawyers said.

Man, Daughter Killed

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A man and his 5-year-old daughter were struck and killed by a car last night while they were walking across Ohio 2, eight miles west of here.

They were Lee Strokes, 49, Toledo, and his daughter, Janice.

AUTOMOBILE PILFERED

A case of car pilfering is under investigation today by the police department. John Riggelman of Prospect reported to police Friday at 8:50 p.m. that the four chrome hub caps on his car had been taken while it was parked on Campbell St. Friday night. No value was placed on the stolen caps.

ONLY ONE CLAIM FILED

BUCYRUS — Only one claim for sheep killed by dogs was filed with Crawford County Commissioners here in January. Commissioners approved the claim of $18 for one sheep belonging to Lester G. Marquart of near New Washington. In December, 20 claims, totaling $894, were approved for payment.

Weather Report

Cloudy, occasional rain beginning west this morning and east this afternoon, high 36-46 north, 46-54 south. Rain and not as cold tonight, low 38-46. Sunday cloudy, windy and mild with rain, turning colder Sunday night with rain changing to snow.

Crime Prevention Week Observed by Exchange Club

Members Hear Talks by Police, Patrolmen and Court Officials

A program in observance of Crime Prevention Week, which is a National Exchange Club project, was presented at a luncheon meeting of the Marion Exchange Club Friday at Hotel Harding.

Guest speakers were Judge Edward J. Ruzzo, Judge Paul D. Smith, Chief of Police Thomas Coon and Cpl. D. M. DeWalt of the state highway patrol.

SPEAKING on crime, Judge Ruzzo stated that attitudes are caught, not taught, adding that criminal attitudes start in the homes with the parents. He referred to disparaging comments made by parents about police officers and other public officials, comments which later are taken up by the children.

Judge Smith told his audience that adults have to show young people that from a selfish standpoint, crime does not pay. As a result of criminal acts, morals are torn down and everyone is affected eventually. Also believing that crime originates in the home, Judge Smith cited several cases which have been traced back to the home.

CHIEF COON related the progress the police department has made in the past several years, especially the cooperation with the youth of the city.

LAW ENFORCEMENT officials of the city and county spoke before members of the Exchange Club Friday noon as the club concluded its week-long observance of Crime Prevention Week. Program participants (left to right) were Cpl. D. M. Dewalt, LeRoy Retterer, Police Chief Tom Coon, Joseph Shearer, D. J. Sansotta, Probate and Juvenile Judge Edward J. Ruzzo and Common Pleas Judge Paul D. Smith. Retterer, Shearer and Sansotta, members of the Exchange Club, were in charge of plans for the week.

parents commit misdemeanors in front of their children, the youngsters will grow up with lack of respect for the law, he said.

Cpl. DeWalt's talk dealt with misdemeanors on the highways. If

Serving as co-chairmen of the program were D. J. Sansotta and LeRoy Retterer. The attendance award was won by Ralph White.

Guests were Holly Baker and Rev. John C. Searle Jr.

Speaker Describes Her Rhodesia Experiences

Captain Margaret L. Trefz, Salvation Army worker who spent several years in Southern Rhodesia, was a guest speaker at a dinner meeting of the 20-30 Club Thursday evening. She told of the Salvation Army's missionary work in Rhodesia. She was presented by Lt. Pauline Lapply of the Marion Corps.

Guests were Kenneth E. Vincent, B. Huston Ackley, James Burris, Robert Dorfe, Richard Pershing, Tom E. Ballinger, George W. Snyder, Dick Grimm, John Jones, Robert Garey and George E. Jordan of Marion, and Ed Heckathorn, a member of the club at Wooster.

It was announced the 20-30 Club team won the first game of the House basketball league, defeating the Y Men's Club. The team included Dr. William Williams, Lowell Ralston, William Deskin, Doyle Cook, Dr. Harry Mauk, Tom Boyd and Dr. Carroll Conklin.

Storm

two storm deaths in Montana and one each in Colorado and Wyoming. The fifth victim was a 79-year-old retired miner who collapsed and died after shoveling snow in Denver.

The last bus to be set free was found with its motor still running to operate the heaters. Driver Glen Andrews, about 50, of Cheyenne, Wyo., reported he had nearly 100 gallons of gasoline left.

A state highway patrol accompanying a snow plow radioed word the six Craig men had been found unharmed. They had taken shelter from the storm while trying to drive 175 miles home from Rock Springs, Wyo.

In addition to the deaths resulting directly from the blizzard, a 2-year-old child perished in a fire at Wolf Point, Mont., and another blaze left a Riverton, Wyo., farm family of seven homeless.

The storm also struck the Dakotas damaging blows as it moved southward to West Texas and eastward into Minnesota and Iowa. Snow fell during the night and amounts of new snow ranged from 1 to 5 inches in most areas.

Temperatures ranged from around zero and below in the Dakotas, Montana, Wyoming, and Colorado to the teens in much of Kansas and the 20s into northwest Texas. One of the coldest spots was Glasgow, Mont., with 12 below.

The Greyhound bus with 19 passengers aboard stalled west of Rawlins, Wyo., and snowplows and rescue workers sought to locate it. Thirty-one passengers in another Greyhound bus which stalled in drifts near the Continental Divide in central Wyoming were rescued yesterday.

Six men reported missing in a station wagon between Rock Springs, Wyo., and Craig, Colo., also were found safe early today.

Rain, Rain, Go Away

EL CENTRO, Calif. (UP) — Students in the Central Union High School here are hoping that there are no more rainy days this winter—even though a rainy day means no school.

School Superintendent Guy A. Weakly has warned that unusually wet weather has exhausted the quota of no-school days and that if more such holidays are given the annual Easter vacation must be cut, the Memorial holiday must be given up and the school year lengthened.

Cites New Projects

Ohio's Waterways To Be Busier, Engineer Claims

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Col. J. L. Person says Ohio's water highways, which have been humming with increased activity in recent years, will be busier than ever with the completion of projects planned or now under way.

Person, Ohio river division engineer at Cincinnati, told the fourth annual Ohio Water Clinic Conference:

Effect To Be Greater

"The effect of water-borne commerce on the economy of Ohio will be magnified" by completion of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

"By modernization of the Ohio River system from Pittsburgh to Cairo, (Ill.),

"By completion of the Calumet-Sag project to remove the last bottleneck in the water connection from the Ohio to the Great Lakes at Chicago,

"By the development of water transportation on the Missouri, and

"By other improvements in the system of waterways linking the Ohio, the gulf, the Mississippi, the Missouri and the Great Lakes into one great mid-American empire of trade."

Speaking yesterday at Ohio State University, Col. Person pointed to what happened on the Ohio River when a nine-foot channel and the present lock-and-dam system were installed.

Turning to flood control, Col. Person said reservoirs and other flood control devices prevented more than 140 million dollars in damage from last October's Ohio River floods, when "Hurricane Hazel dropped enough water on the upper Ohio Valley to have produced, without our completed projects, the third highest flood of record in the Pittsburgh-Wheeling area."

Paid for Project

The prevention of damage in this one flood threat more than paid for the flood control projects that did the work, Person declared.

Other flood projects that have more than paid for themselves in value of property damage prevented are Berlin and Mosquito Creek reservoirs in the Mahoning Basin, said Person.

The most nearly completed tributary basin "from the viewpoint of reservoir control" is the Muskingum Valley.

"Local protection projects have been completed at Wellsville, Massillon, Newark, Ironton, Portsmouth - New Boston and Cincinnati," said Person. "In the relatively short time that they have been in operation, all have prevented substantial damages and some of them have already produced benefits nearly equal to their original cost."

Scioto Unsolved Problem

He termed the Scioto Basin one of the unsolved flood control problems in Ohio. "Changing economic conditions since the adoption of the authorized plan have resulted in a questionable economic balance in the case of the Big Darby, Deer Creek, Paint Creek, and Rocky Fork reservoirs. We have authority for a review study of the problem, and will proceed with it as soon as the availability of funds permits. At that time we still study alternate reservoir possibilities, including the Mill Creek site."

The two-day water conference closed yesterday.

erty, its power in this respect being limited to inhabited property."

In today's ruling, the appellate judges disagrees, however. They said that the state "made no distinction between inhabited and uninhabited land in its grant of power. If such a distinction were intended it could have been easily and simply stated."

The local school case originally was filed by Mr. Guthery following action of the county board on Dec. 31, 1953. At that meeting, the board:

1. Transferred approximately 227 acres in three different tracts, all owned by the Wyandotte Farm Co., and uninhabited from Green Camp local school district to the Meeker local school district.

2. Transferred approximately 707 acres owned by different individuals and firms, and the right-of-way of the Erie Railroad, from Morral local school district to the Meeker local school district.

3. Transferred approximately 490 acres from Marion local school district to the Meeker local school district.

AFTER THE transfers were made three suits were filed in Common Pleas Court to nullify the action. They were filed by Guthery, as a taxpayer, by William Tracewell, also as a taxpayer, and by the Marion Local Board of Education. A petition filed by the latter plaintiff alleged the transfers were made only "for the purpose of manipulating and adjusting the taxable valuations of the school districts involved" and not for the benefit of pupils living within the areas.

The land involved is valued at about $1,179,000 on the tax duplicate.

The transfers became necessary originally because the Marion Local School District no longer maintained a school. A state law passed several years ago required that districts with no schools be dissolved.

The Marion Local School District believed that the area transferred to Meeker should have gone to the Marion City School District, since most of the students in the old district attended school in Marion city. It said there were 64 students in the Marion Local district and of these 59 attended schools in Marion.

TODAY'S RULING by the Appeals Court was concerned only with the transfer of the first segment of land (from Green Camp to Meeker) but the entire case rests on this first transfer, since state law provides territory within a school district must be contiguous. The first transfer could not be thrown out without throwing out the rest because if the first transfer was nullified the Meeker school district territory would not be contiguous.

OVERTON, Neb. (UP) — A seventh - eighth grade schoolroom here is plagued by the number 13.

There are 13 pupils in the seventh grade — nine boys and four girls.

There are 13 pupils in the eighth grade — nine girls and four boys.

The 13 in the seventh grade are 13 years old, so are the eighth-graders.

There are 13 members of both classes of Irish origin, while the other 13 are of German origin.

WRONG DATE

WALLINGFORD, Conn. (UP)—Democrats here were a little red-faced when they realized what date they picked for a victory celebration. They chose Feb. 12, Lincoln's birthday, and biggest banquet day of the year for Republicans.

Traffic Cases In City Court

Fines amounting to $145 and costs were levied against four motorists in Municipal Court Friday for traffic violations.

Heaviest penalty went to Maurice W. Reeder, 54, of near Nevada who pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated. He was fined $100 and costs, sentenced to five days in the Marion County jail and given a three-year suspension of his driver's license.

The other motorists were all fined $15 and costs each. They were William E. Chesser of near Marion for failure to display his operators' license; Arthur McGuire, 34, of 920 E. Mark St., for driving without a license; and Vernon E. Denman, 57, of near Prospect for failing to yield the right of way.

District Traffic Cases

Four arrests were made Friday outside of Marion County by state highway patrolmen of the Marion post.

James H. Braley, 47, of Toledo, was fined $10 and costs on a charge of excessive speed when he appeared before Mayor Emery Murphy of Mount Gilead.

Ronald L. Davis, 22, of Canton, was fined $10 and costs on a charge of passing over a yellow line, and Ernest Blevins, 31, of Cleveland, was fined $15 and costs on a charge of reckless operation. They appeared before Mayor Murphy.

David Blackshear, 39, of Cleveland, was fined $25 and costs on a charge of passing over the yellow line. He appeared before Justice of the Peace Paul Richeson of Cardington.

Junks

low caused by last week's withdrawal from the Tachen Islands.

Nationalist intelligence knew a day in advance that a 14-ship convoy, would move troops and supplies southward from Wenchow Bay on Friday.

That gave Chiang Kai-shek's Navy time to move its northern fleet based at Keelung into position to pounce on the Red Chinese flotilla. Normally this fleet would include a half dozen destroyers along with destroyer escorts and converted minesweepers.

At dawn Friday the Nationalist warships were cruising the choppy East China Sea out of sight of the mainland but in position to intercept the Red flotilla.

The eight Communist landing ships, guarded by two destroyer escorts and four gunboats, moved into sight and the action began about 8 a.m.

By 9 a.m., the Nationalist navy said, it had sunk at least seven landing ships and possibly three gunboats.

The surviving Red craft fled toward nearby harbors with the Nationalist warships in pursuit. Nationalist fighter-bombers roared out from Formosa to join in the action. Adm. Lee Yu-hai, who brought his victorious fleet back to Keelung today, estimated Red casualties were in excess of 1,000 dead.

What appears to have been another convoy, possibly unaware of the disastrous blow to the first, moved into the area and the Nationalist air force pounced on it.

The air force claimed its warplanes sank a landing craft, two gunboats and eight armed motorized junks.

Pilots hunting for targets of opportunity said they saw a submarine surface about 3:50 p.m. and scored direct hits. They reported it "sank into the sea."

State To Show Vice Condition In Phenix City

Lawlessness Rampant, Prosecution in Trial Of Sheriff Contends

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Prosecuting attorneys seeking to draw a tightening net of evidence around Albert Fuller promised to focus attention today on the grip of vice that once throttled Phenix City.

Two newspaper reporters and a Birmingham attorney were among witnesses scheduled to testify in the fifth day of the former chief deputy sheriff's trial for the murder of A. L. Patterson.

Watched Raid

The newsmen summoned were Richard Peacock and Joe Campbell of the Birmingham News, who were in a Phenix City night club when Fuller and other deputies raided it in December, 1953.

Atty. Albert Rosenthal, one of Patterson's campaign managers in his successful race for attorney general, was another called to testify.

Through their testimony, Special Prosecutor Cecil Deason said he would show that organized racketeering "was in full vogue" in the notorious city of sin and that Patterson as the Democratic nominee for attorney general had sworn to crush the vice empire.

Deason has said he would prove that Fuller, as second in command in the sheriff's office, knew that lawlessness was rampant there, and that Patterson was murdered because he had promised to stop it.

Sets Off Cleanup

Patterson's death signaled a wholesale cleanup in Phenix City climaxed by the indictment of Fuller and two other former officials on first degree murder charges which are punishable by death in the electric chair.

Arch Ferrell, who was prosecuting attorney in the vice-infested riverfront town, and former Alabama Atty. Gen. Si Garrett are the other two defendants. Ferrell faces trial after Fuller's fate is determined. Garrett is undergoing mental treatment in a Galveston, Tex., hospital.

Silage Meeting Scheduled for Area Farmers

MOUNT GILEAD — Farmers from Marion, Morrow and surrounding counties will meet in the sales arena at the Morrow County Fairgrounds Monday afternoon to discuss problems connected with producing harvesting, storing and feeding silage.

The meeting, which will begin at 1:30 p.m. will feature a silage show and a question and answer session with four specialists answering the questions. Those serving on the panel will include: Charles Rogers of the Ohio Agriculture Experiment Station, one of the nation's top sileage specialists; C. D. McGrew, dairy extension specialist at Ohio State University; Earl Jones, extension agronomist at Ohio State, and K. V. Battles extension engineer at the same institution.

Samples from 53 silos in Morrow County have been sent to the laboratory of the Ohio Department of Agriculture at Reynoldsburg, for analysis of feeding value. Each sample was analyzed for percentage of moisture, protein, fat and fiber. Samples from the same silos will be displayed at the meeting. These samples will be graded by Rogers. He will consider general quality indicating palatability as well as the analyses in determining the grades.

The use of silage, particularly that made from forage crops, has increased greatly in Morrow County during the past few years. Compared to hay making, silage offers the advantages of preserving a larger percentage of the crop, reducing the chance of losses caused by weather and of preserving larger percentages of vitamin and protein content of the forage crop.

Counties participating in the meeting will include Crawford, Richland, Knox, Delaware, Marion and Morrow.

Bible Club Instructors To See Film Wednesday

Child Evangelism Fellowship Bible Club teachers meeting Wednesday at 1 p.m. at the Union Rescue Mission on N. State St. will see the film, "Successful Teaching." This is a weekly teacher training class conducted by Miss Dorotha Goyer, local Child Evangelism Fellowship director.

Mrs. Ralph Johnson will present Wednesday the study of "Teachers' Introductory Bible Studies." A group activity will be the assembling of a missionary flashcard lesson on "William Carey" and "Percy's Padlocked Purse." Flannelboard Bible study of the story of Abraham will be presented by Miss Goyer. All Sunday School teachers and children's workers are invited to attend these class sessions, she announced.

A train that traveled 127 miles an hour in 1905 still holds the U. S. railroad speed record.

CHAMP BAKER. Thrilled at having won the 1955 National Cherry Pie Baking contest in Chicago, blonde, dimpled, Marjorie Campbell (left) is kissed by her mother, Mrs. Richard Campbell. The 17-year-old high school senior from Red Hook, N. Y., said she plans to use the scholarship prize to take home economics at either Iowa State College, Ames, Ia., or Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y.

Cherry Pie Baking Championship Won By New York Girl

CHICAGO (AP)—A dimple cheeked high school senior who had never before been farther West than Rochester, N.Y., checked into Chicago with a recipe and checked out with the national cherry pie baking championship.

Blonde Marjorie Campbell, 17, of Red Hook, N.Y., beat champions of the other 47 states and Hawaii.

This year for the first time the national contest had two male competitors, Gene Goff of Jefferson City, Mo., and Daved Ludtke of Grand Forks, N.D., neither of whom finished in the money.

In addition to the title, Marjorie gets a free trip to Washington, DC., and New York, a $500 college scholarship and the electric range, on which she baked the winning pie.

State Appointment Made

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — William S. Lee has been named permit chief of the state department of liquor control.

He replaces Alan E. Schwarzwalder who was named assistant director of the department last Dec. 22. The appointment was announced today by Liquor Director William C. Bryant.

BELLEFONTAINE MAN KILLED

BELLEFONTAINE, Ohio (AP)—The state highway patrol said John Reynolds Fleming Jr., 38, of Bellefontaine was killed early today when the car he was driving left Ohio 69, two miles north of nearby Lakeview.

Senator Plans Fight Against Increase in Pay

WASHINGTON (AP — Sen. Bush (R-Conn) today promised a Senate floor fight against the powerful drive to boost congressmen's pay, but conceded he faces an uphill battle.

Senate leaders passed the word that the congressional pay hike, already overwhelmingly approved by the House, will be called up in the Senate next week, probably Monday.

"I think it's highly inappropriate to hurry and rush this bill through early in the session," Bush said in an interview.

The House voted 283-118 this week for a $10,000 yearly raise in congressmen's pay to $25,000, including a $2,500 expense account, and continuing a special $3,000 exemption from income taxes intended to offset the cost of maintaining a second home in Washington.

A similar Senate bill, calling for a raise to $22,500 a year, was speedily approved by the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Both House and Senate bills also call for liberal increases in pay of federal judges.

Bush said he plans first to try to separate the judicial pay boost from that for members of Congress.

"There are two separate questions," Bush said, adding that he favored raising the pay for justices of the Supreme Court and other federal judges.

hanging over the site, Maj. Fain H. Pool of Lawton, Okla., the pilot, brought the plane over the only hole in the blanket at perhaps 28,000 feet, and a perfect shot dropped out of the blue. It was right on target, test officials said. The crew commander was Lt. Col. Eugene W. Cox, St. Louis, Mo.

Height of the burst was estimated at 1,500 feet. It was heard in smaller communities to the north and west of the test site, but was not heard or felt in Las Vegas, 75 miles southeast.

Observers classed it with previous small test blasts in the 15-kiloton order or less. The original A-bomb was 20 kilotons. A kiloton is the power equivalent of 1,000 tons of TNT.

The delayed tower shot is believed to be greater than nominal A-bomb strength.

One of the interested on-site observers yesterday was Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission. He also planned to see today's blast. He declined comment on the opener.

Prexies End Drought, Defeat Fremont Team 79-65

Toss of Coin Gives Harding First Verdict in Conference

A long dry spell ended last night at Harding High School when the basketball Prexies rose up to smack down Fremont Ross 79-65 for their sixth win of the campaign.

The victory avenged a 76-74 win by the Little Giants in a game played at Fremont last month. The verdict last night, however, will figure in the Buckeye Conference standings and is the first notched in that league by the Harding cagers. A coin toss following last night's action gave Coach Jim Lawler's charges the league verdict. Officials at both schools decided on the coin toss at the last league meeting.

All five of Lawler's starters finished in the double figure scoring column to notch their sixth win against 13 losses. Although outscored from the field 25-21, the sharp-shooting Prexies posted a 37-15 edge at the foul lines.

The invaders managed to make it close for only one period. During the opening stanza, they traded baskets with the Presidents and ended the frame on the short end of a 19-17 count after Bob Messner batted in a tipin shot in the closing seconds for Harding. The lead changed hands six times in the opening period and the score was tied twice.

The teams continued on even ground in the early stages of the second stanza until the clock showed 4:50 to play when Phil Carroll shoved Harding in front for keeps by dumping in a pair of foul shots to shove the score to 26-24. When the halftime intermission arrived, Harding was holding a 38-30 edge.

The Prexies applied the knockout punch in the third period when they notched 22 markers to 14 for the Giants. That spurt sent the Harding squad into the final round with a comfortable 60-44 cushion and the Giants were out of contention.

During the final period, the Prexies played it safe. Joe Snouffer, Gene Armstrong and Phil Sykes took care of the ball handling while Ted Bibler and Messner, who turned in his top performance of the campaign, took care of the inside work and gave the Prexies control of both boards.

Messner was the top gun in Harding's offense, finishing with 20 points, Carroll came in with 15 and Snouffer and Sykes both netted 12. Lowell Carlisle, fifth Harding starter, ended the contest with 10 markers.

The Prexies finished the game with a 38 per cent average from the field, connecting on 21 of 54 attempts. The invaders hit on 25 of 71 attempts. From the foul line, the Presidents dumped in 37 of 53 shots for a 70 per cent shooting mark.

Messner dropped in seven of 14 attempts from the field and Carroll connected on five of 12. Sykes came in with five of 13 while Snouffer hit for one field goal in six tries.

Lanny Miller sparked the visitors' attack with 24 and Walt Chambers hit for 16.

Harding's Vice Presidents posted an easy 66-41 verdict in the preliminary tilt. The winners raced into a 22-11 first period bulge and by the halftime rest were out front by a 32-22 count. They carried a 52-34 bulge into the last quarter.

Ted Firstenberger pumped in 20 points to top the attack and Bob Shaffer added 11. Tom Gregg's nine was high for the losers.

Bucyrus Bows To Norwalk in NOL Struggle

BUCYRUS — Norwalk edged past Bucyrus 68-62 in a Northern Ohio League tussle here last night. Jumping into an early lead the visiting led most of the way.

The Truckers grabbed a 20-16 edge in the opening period and at the half were nursing a 41-27 cushion. They carried a 53-44 edge into the final stanza.

Roger Freshwater led the Bucyrus attack with 20 markers and Jerry Weithman came in with 13. For Norwalk, Jim Schachterle was the big wheel with 21 points and Dick Heaston hit for 19.

The loss gave Bucyrus an 8-8 mark for the season and a 2-4 league record. Norwalk has won eight and lost seven and is 4-2 in the NOL. The Bucyrus reserves won 52-30.

Charles Grabs Easy Decision Over Norkus

NEW YORK (AP)—Ezzard Charles isn't the fighter he used to be but he still is much too good for the likes of Charley Norkus.

Slow and wild after a five-month layoff and two beatings by Rocky Marciano, the former heavyweight champion last night exposed Norkus as a crude but willing workman who was "in over his head."

After winning a unanimous decision in 10 rounds and dropping Norkus with a "sneak right" for an automatic eight count in the early seconds of the ninth, Charles said he was ready for anybody.

Ezz, now 33, has been sending no telegrams, circulating no petitions and writing no campaign letters but anybody who wants to fight Marciano will find him spoiling for action.

That goes for Archie Moore, Nino Valdes, Don Cockell or anybody you can think of, according to Charles.

"I'm making no claims on any Marciano bout," said Charles. "I'm ready to take them as they come."

Harry Markson, director of boxing for the International Boxing club said he had March 18 and March 25 open at Madison Square Garden where 5,304 paid $17,230 to see last night's scrap.

At 191½ pounds to Norkus' 195½, Charles was a bit heavy.

As usual, his left hook to body and head was his best punch until he hurt his hand.

If Charles hadn't been penalized in the sixth round for a low left hook, Norkus wouldn't have won a round on two official cards. Counting that sixth for Norkus, Judge Joe Agnello scored it 9-1 and Referee Kessler 8-1-1. Judge Jack Gordon had it 8-2. The AP card also was 8-2, giving Norkus the first and sixth.

Tourney Action Slated Tonight

A pair of consolation tilts and one championship contest are on tap tonight as the Marion County tournament resumes action at the Coliseum.

LaRue will meet New Bloomington in the first tournament appearance of Coach Tommy Cropper's New Bloomington charges. The winner of that game, scheduled to get under way around 9 p.m., will meet Claridon next Tuesday night in the semi-finals.

Opening tonight's schedule will be Meeker's Trojans going against Green Camp in the 6:30 opener while Pleasant and Morral will tangle in the middle game.

Harding Will Meet Galion In First Tournament Clash

Harding High School will meet Galion in its first tournament test during the Marion Sectional Tournament next month at the Coliseum.

The pairings were made this morning at a meeting of coaches, athletic directors, principals and other officials of the eight schools at Harding.

The tourney will get under way on Monday, Feb. 28 with Ashland (8-8) meeting Mansfield Madison (4-10) in the 7 p.m. opener. Top-seeded Shelby (15-0) will play Bucyrus (7-8) in the finale slated for 8:20.

Harding and Galion will open the second night of play on Wednesday, March 2. Upper Sandusky (2-10) is matched against second-seeded Mansfield (14-5) in the second game that night.

The two semi-final contests will be played Friday, March 4 with the two finalists clashing on Saturday, March 5. The winner here will advance to the Toledo district tourney.

School officials this morning seeded Shelby No. 1 in the local event, Mansfield was placed second, Galion third and Ashland fourth.

Following the pairings, the school representatives were guests of the Harding athletic department for a luncheon in the school cafeteria.

Meet Friday

Chesterville and Johnsville Will Play in Morrow Finals

Chesterville and Johnsville advanced into the finals of the Morrow County Tournament play Friday night as they posted victories at the Marion Coliseum.

Chesterville dumped Iberia 73-41; while Johnsville whipped Sparta 52-36. The two victors will meet in the final game of the evening next Friday night at the Coliseum.

Three Chesterville players hit in double figures in the scoring column to pace their team to an easy victory over Iberia. Maurice James and Roger Craig paced the team with 20 points each.

Close behind was Dick Perkins who dumped in 19 markers. Warren Zeger and Bill Shelton tied for top honors for the losers with 11 points apiece. Chesterville held large margins all the way as it led 35-24 at the half and 46-32 going into the final quarter.

Lyle Snavely paced the Johnsville quintet to its victory as he hit on seven field goals and seven foul shots for 21 points. High man for the Spartans was Givens with four goals and five foul shots for 13 points.

Johnsville piled up its margin from the foul line, outpointing its for 22-10 on charity tosses. The winners only scored two more field goals than Sparta.

Johnsville iced the game in the second quarter holding the losers to a single point, and piling up a 22-9 anvantage going into the second half.

In the third game, the Iberia reserves edged the Sparta reserves 45-43.

Action returns to Mount Gilead Monday night in the consolation tourney as the Iberia Reserves meet the Edison Reserves in the opener. Cardington meets Sparta in the second game, while Iberia and Edison tangle in the nightcap.

Giants Become First To Finish Contract Talks

NEW YORK (AP)—First in the National League, first in the World Series and first in all players signed was the proud boast of the world champion New York Giants today.

The Giants beat the other clubs to the wire by signing rookie Bob Lennon yesterday. He is a left-handed hitting outfielder, who slammed 64 home runs for Nashville last season while leading the Southern Assn. with a .345 average. No mention was made of his salary.

It was estimated that the players probably got about $550,000 or almost 15 per cent more than last year.

Tops on the club is Alvin Dark, the captain and shortstop who signed for two years at about $38,000 per right after the series. The only other man in the $30,000 plus class is Sal Maglie, the veteran righthander, who gets about $32,000.

Willie Mays is in the $25,000 strata along with Monte Irvin. Around $20,000 are Johnny Antonelli, Don Mueller, Whitey Lockman and Ruben Gomez. Scattered between $15,000 and $20,000 are Davey Williams, Hot Wilhelm, Wes Westrum and Hank Thompson.

Fights Last Night

New York — Ezzard Charles, 191½, Cincinnati, outpointed Charley Norkus, 195½, Port Washington, N. Y. 10.

San Diego, Calif.—Frankie Daniels, 177, Bakersville, Calif., outpointed Bob Dunlap, 184, Los Angeles, 8.

EMPLOYMENT UP

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Officials of the Ohio State Employment Service in Akron and Barberton announced Thursday that employment in the area was up 800 since last September, bringing the work force total to 79,000.

Frank Smith Big Help

Stanky Sees Cards as Improved Team

By EDDIE STANKY
Cardinals' Manager

FAIRHOPE, Ala. (AP)—I am looking forward to the 1955 season with a great deal of hope and enthusiasm. I am not in the habit of making predictions but I am willing to go on record as saying that not only will the Cardinals be a much better team than they were in 1954 but they will prove to be a strong flag contender.

One of our big weaknesses last year was in the bull pen. Time and again we lost games in the eighth and ninth innings that appeared won. This year we hope to be much better off in the bullpen because of the acquisition of Frank Smith from Cincinnati and the promotion of several fine young prospects from the minors.

Good Hitting

The addition of Smith alone makes us stronger but don't forget that we will have Brooks Lawrence and Gordon Jones right from the start. They proved a lifesaver to us last year.

I'm not worried about the team's hitting. We were the best-hitting club in the league last year but we finished sixth. I'm more concerned about our pitching. We had good hitting and went no place because we lacked the pitching in 1954. I know we'll be better on the mound in '55. For a big four we have Harvey Haddix, Tom Poholsky, Lawrence and Jones. I think they'll be all right. There are some other pitchers I'd like to look over. We have several good looking youngsters coming up. I want to look over such fellows as Luis Arroyo, Larry Jackson, Tony Jacobs, John Faszholz, Mike Schultz, Bobby Tiefenauer, Floyd Wooldridge and others.

I also expect Vic Raschi to help the club a great deal. We may alter his schedule a bit this year, pitching him once a week. He gave it a battle with four or five days' rest last year. But I believe he needs a week, so he'll be a spot pitcher. Where most pitchers can get by with 100 to 110 pitches, Vic needs that many in six or seven innings, and it takes a lot out of him.

Hit In Foot

Sure I'd figured on him for from 12 to 16 victories. But he did get off with a 5-0 record before his foot was hit by that line drive from Frankie Baumholtz's bat late in May. And the thing to remember is that he beat the Giants and Dodgers five times.

Smith may be just what we need. I'll admit his 5-8 record last year doesn't look like much but it's deceiving. Actually, he saved 19 games for the Reds which he did not receive credit for. I know we gave up a good man in Ray Jablonski for Smitty. Nobody can appreciate Jabbo more than I did. He did a wonderful job for the Cards. Yet, if all the reports we have had on young Ken Boyer are true, then Boyer, and not Jablonski, would have been my regular third baseman.

I have been reading reports out of the winter leagues on some of our players and they're very encouraging. Billy Virdon has been playing good ball for Havana. Yet when he comes to camp, he'll have to make the club like all the other prospects. If Virdon clicks like Wally Moon did, he'll be in there. I'll field my strongest lineup always.

As of now Stan Musial is an outfielder. But don't get the idea that Stan dislikes playing first base. Last season when we were having difficulty around first base, Stan volunteered to play first base—or any place to help the club. But I think we'll be all right at first.

Improved Daily

Joe Cunningham improved every day after joining the club in midseason. And Tom Alston, who started there, is a fine defensive player. His trouble last year was that he tried too hard. All he had to do is correct a couple of batting faults and he can make it. He has a lot of determination. Both he and Joe can hit with power when they connect.

We have a strong bench with Joe Frazier and Solly Hemus. Our catching, with Bill Sarni and Del Rice, is good. We think our pennant chances are good, but certainly all the other clubs in the league are stronger. The teams to beat are New York, Brooklyn and Milwaukee.

Crestline and Clyde Move To Semi-Finals in Tournament

FREMONT — Two sharpshooting teams, Crestline and Clyde, advanced to the semi-finals of the non - county Class B basketball tournament here last night.

Crestline downed Gibsonburg, 77-56, and Clyde defeated Carey, 84-68. Both winners finished strong after menacing gestures by their opponents in th ethird quarter.

Gibsonburg once led by four in the third period, but Crestline tied it at the foul line, then opened up to rout the Golden Bears. Jim Miller, who wasn't a regular until three weeks ago, scored 30 points and Lany Simmermacher, a sophomore, scored 20 for Crestline. Mel Moore hit 21 for Gibsonburg.

Clyde watched a 49-29 third quarter lead melt to a one-point edge midway in the last quarter, then John Taylor, bespectacled forward, rallied his mates and they surged to the lopsided victory.

Taylor scored a total of 25 points. Dick Phillips made 19 for Carey.

The semi-finals will be played Wednesday in Fremont. Crestline will play Norwalk St. Paul at 7:30 and Clyde meets Fremont St. Joe at 9.

Morrow Fairgrounds Loss Payment Received

MOUNT GILEAD — Morrow County Commissioners received payment of $5,250.30 in damages for loss by fire of a building at the Morrow County fairgrounds last November and damage to neighboring buildings.

Commissioners at their meeting this week allowed E. B. Kirkpatrick up to $25 for 24-inch tile for repair of the Kreis ditch in Cardington Township.

A 1949 GMC station wagon was purchased from Virgil Gist for $400 for use by the county highway department. A 1949 one-half ton Chevrolet pickup truck was purchased from Ault Motor Sales for $425 for use by the county highway department.

NCAA Video Plans Cloaked in Secrecy

CHICAGO (AP) — The 1955 NCAA football television plan will be announced sometime early next week, Walter Byers, executive director of the association, announced yesterday.

Byers said the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. television committee has agreed on a plan which will be submitted to member institutions for an approval vote by March 2.

Byers would not indicate what the 12-man committee had agreed upon nor would he say how, if at all, it differed from last year's game-of-the-week plan.

Dayton Scores 80-69 Verdict Over Bearcats

By The Associated Press

Dayton's Flyers will go into the NIT on at least even terms with Cincinnati, Ohio's other NIT-bound team. The Flyers smacked Cincinnati, 80-69, Friday night avenging an earlier 78-85 loss to the Bearcats.

It was the second time this week the Cincinnatians have succumbed to an NIT contender. Duquesne defeated the Bearcats, ranked 12th in the nation, 81-67, at Pittsburgh Monday.

Dayton was ranked 135th in this week's Associated Press poll.

John Horan's slick ball handling and sharpshooting was a major factor in the Flyer victory. Horan scored 20 of his 27 points in the second half.

The win gave Dayton a 19-3 season record and moved the Flyers into second place in state standings ahead of Cincinnati. The Bearcats have a 19-5 record. Marietta still is the top team in the state with a 20-2 record.

The Dayton-Cincinnati tussle topped a five-game program for Ohio college teams last night. Eighteen games are scheduled tonight, three of them in the Mid-American Conference, one in the Western Conference, six Ohio Conference and three Mid-Ohio League.

Western Michigan scored its ninth Mid - American Conference victory against three losses, downing Western Reserve 82-76, to break a second-place tie with Marshall (8-3). The Michigan team did it despite 36 points by Western Reserve center Dick Howard.

In an other Mid-American game, Ohio University's Bobcats trounced Bowling Green, 81-70, holding the lead all the way except for a few minutes at the start of the game.

Western Kentucky's Lynn Cole broke a 59-59 deadlock with three straight field goals, and the Hilltoppers went on to beat Xavier 75-72.

Concordia of Indiana defeated Bluffton, 95-78, holding a good margin through most of the game.

Lawyers for FCC Deny Charge They Coerced False Testimony

WASHINGTON (AP)—Communications commission lawyers mapped a counteroffensive today against a justice department consultant's claim they coaxed him into lying that Edward Lamb once praised Communists and helped finance their causes.

"Any suggestion that anyone on the commission staff improperly induced testimony is wholly unfounded and patently false," Joseph M. Kittner, commission attorney, told reporters.

Ex-Ohio Communist Lowell Watson, a part time "expert witness" on Communists in immigration cases, insisted on the stand yesterday that he had only the vaguest recollections of seeing Lamb in Toledo, Ohio in the early 1930's.

But by the time commission representatives finished "coaching" him last fall, he said, he managed to tell a detailed, invented story about watching Lamb give money to a Communist a half dozen times or more.

Actually, Watson said, he knew so little about Lamb that commission lawyers had to show him pictures of Lamb and tell him where the publisher - broadcaster was sitting in the hearing room so he could point him out.

Watson, 6-foot-6 Olathe, Kan., dairy farmer who weighs 271 pounds, is the second government witness to accuse federal lawyers of coaching or coercing them into falsely connecting Lamb with Communists.

The first turnabout witness was Mrs. Narie Natvig of Miami Beach, Fla., who contended commission attorneys "brainwashed" her into giving false testimony against Lamb, a Toledo lawyer who publishes the Erie, Pa., Dispatch and operates radio and television stations in three states.

When he applied for renewal of Erie TV station WICU, the commission raised as an issue what it said were allegations Lamb knowingly associated with Ohio Communists in the 1930's. Lamb emphatically denied the accusations and countered that commission representatives tried to induce persons to testify falsely against him.

The commission ordered its hearing, in recess today, to consider both the allegations against Lamb and his counter charges.

Store Proprietor Heads Comic Book Campaign in Upper

UPPER SANDUSKY — Selecting a businessman to lead organization activity the newly-formed citizen's committee for comic book clean-up in a first meeting Thursday night elected V. A. Menningen, proprietor of a sporting goods store here, as chairman.

Mrs. Wilbur Lawrence, a mothers' club representative was named secretary-treasurer. Rev. Paul Rohrbaugh, pastor of the Evangelical and Reformed Church, was selected as the Ministerial Association representative on the committee and Richard Lab, Upper Sandusky High School teacher, is the representative of the community's educators.

Committee members from the local high school student council are Robert Graham and Sara Lou Miller. Kenneth Ekleberry is a Sycamore High School delegate and Jane Monroe is the Nevada High representative.

Additional members will include a layman from each church of the community. Already named to those positions are Maurice Logsdon of St. Peter's Catholic Church and Norman Armstrong of the St. Paul Lutheran congregation.

A first order of business for the newly-formed committee will be the organization of sub-committees, investigation and finance.

An educational program, directed primarily at the parents, will be the prime activity of the group, along with essay and poster contests, adult and teen-age forums, and a survey of the type of comic books now available in the community. The survey will also examine the material currently being sold in books bearing the seal of approval by the Publishers' Code Authority.

The Boy Scouts now have a merit badge for railroading, the qualifications including identification of different types of trains and locomotives.

Marine Week Planned Here

Mayor Urges Support For Recruiting Drive

A scheduled three-month recruiting drive in Marion for enlistment, into the Marine Air Reserve was given a boost today by Mayor Harold F. Robinson.

In a proclamation, the mayor declared next week, Feb. 21 through 26, as Marine Air Reserve Week in the city.

Noting that one of the best ways to protect our freedom and reduce the threat of attack by aggressor nations is to build and maintain a strong military reserve, the mayor called on Marionites to join him in support of Marine Air Reserve recruiting campaign.

The local recruiting drive is in charge of T-Sgt. William Hofstetter of the Marine Air Reserve detachment at the U. S. Naval Air Station at Port Columbus.

He had been in Marion for the last five weeks and is to be here another two months.

So far, two Marion area men have enlisted in the Marine Air Reserve from the Marion area. They were Richard Courtney of Prospect and Dale Napper of Latourette St.

The local recruiting office is located at 123 E. Center St.

Rotary Club Broadcasts Will Mark Anniversary

The first of a series of special radio broadcasts in connection with the Rotary Club's observance of its 50th anniversary year will be presented Sunday at 1:45 p.m. over WMRN.

A 15-minute program will be presented each week for 14 weeks. This Sunday's program will be a local panel discussion with Arthur Martin, commercial manager of WMRN and a Rotary Club member, acting as moderator. Members of the panel will be John Stafford, Don Howard and Henry Mickley, all Rotarians.

The remaining 13 programs will be a specially-transcribed series —"Rotary Golden Theater," dramatizing various phases of Rotary activities.

Building Sets Fast Pace for First 3 Weeks

Construction Totals Over Billion Dollars In 37 Eastern States

ST. LOUIS — Preliminary construction contract award figures for January indicate no signs of slackening in the phenomenal pace of the construction industry, an official of F. W. Dodge Corporation said today.

Addressing the 5th annual convention of the Mason Contractors Association of America in St. Louis last week, Dr. George Cline Smith, economist for the Dodge organization of construction news and marketing specialists, said that construction awards in the first three weeks of January in the 37 eastern states, as compiled from Dodge Reports, totaled $1,030,000,000.

This three-week figure, he said, is very close to the total for the entire month of January last year and there is no doubt that when the final figures for January, 1955 are in they will show a substantial increase over the corresponding month of 1954.

On a comparable three week basis, Dr. Smith said, awards in January this year were running 32 per cent ahead of the same period last year. Residential awards showed the greatest increase, 50 per cent ahead, but non - residential building also showed a substantial increase, running more than 26 per cent above the year-ago figure.

Dr. Smith told the audience that it was quite possible that the current high level of residential building might taper off somewhat later in the year.

He noted that there was considerable speculation currently over a possible decline in residential construction, but pointed out two offsetting factors.

"While it is entirely possible that residential construction may turn downward later in the year," he said, "the likelihood of a collapse or of a prolonged decline seems very small. With population growing at the rate of 2,800,000 persons a year, with families tending to become larger and with all signs pointing to continued prosperity for the economy generally the basic underlying demand for housing should remain strong for a long time to come.

"Another point to be kept in mind is that residential building is only one segment of the construction industry and that all indications point to increasing activity in construction of commercial buildings, schools, churches, highways and other public works and public utilities.

"The year 1955 will probably set another new record for construction contract awards and for the construction activity which they reflect."

Survey Shows Larger Houses Choice of Many

Two-thirds of the new nonfarm one-family houses started during the first quarter of 1954 had three bedrooms or more, according to results of a nationwide survey conducted by the U. S. Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Compared with data from earlier studies, the BLS reports that the 1954 house is some five per cent larger on the average than houses built in 1951, with an average floor area of 1,140 square feet. Approximately 5,000 projects including more than 30,000 dwelling units provided the BLS with data for its conclusions.

The median proposed selling price for the survey's one-family houses was $12,300, with one-fourth priced to sell below $10,000 and one-tenth above $20,000. A difference of $2,800 was found between the higher median intended selling prices for houses in metropolitan areas as compared with lower prices for those outside such areas.

Basements were missing from almost 60 per cent of the houses. Only 20 per cent of those in the South and West were being built with a full basement but more than 60 per cent of those in the North were to have basements and an additional 20 per cent were to have partial basements. Nationwide, 82 per cent of the new homes were of frame construction, of which about 40 per cent had wood facing and 25 per cent brick facing. Also, asbestos shingle facing was found to be popular in the North and stucco facing prevalent in the West.

The survey showed that apartments in new five or more family structures started during the first quarter averaged 630 square feet of floor area per unit. Only 40 per cent of the apartment units under construction throughout the country contained more than one bedroom.

ECONOMICAL with an expansion attic which can be finished as shown in this plan, or as two extra bedrooms and bath, this house covers only 936 square fet. The garage adds 200 square feet. This is plan B-2265 by Alwin Cassens Jr., architect, 145 S. Franklin Ave., Valley Stream, N.Y.

First Aid for the Ailing House

By ROGER WHITMAN

Q: I bought an old house and the floor in the living room shakes every time someone walks over it. What can I do for this? Would the extra room in the basement cause the shaking?

A: Ordinarily, vibration in a floor can be taken out by installing cross bridging. Building material dealers sell a pre-fabricated bridging of this sort. If it is not available, cut two by fours at an angle and nail them in place extending from one joist to the next so that two pieces will form the letter X. If the ceiling in the basement is covered with lath and plaster, the additional weight on the joists could contribute to the swaying action.

Q: I live in a one-story home that has a fireplace in the living room. The chimney has two flues, one for the heating unit and the other for the fireplace. The flue lining projects about four inches over the top of a brick chimney. When the weather is windy there is a considerable roar in the living room from the fireplace flue. Is there any way to eliminate this noise without impairing the draft conditions?

A: There should be an improvement, if the top of one of the two flues were a couple of inches higher than the other. In addition to this I suggest that you keep the fireplace damper closed, or partially so, to reduce the siphoning action that might be taking place.

Q: We are having a new house built and have been considering using aluminum gutters and downspouts. But when I suggested the material to two roofing contractors, they laughed at me and said that aluminum was not any good for the purpose and would not hold up. They suggested using galvanized metal if I could not afford copper. What am I to think?

A: From my observation, there is nothing wrong with the use of aluminum gutters and downspouts. Of course, in some localities because of certain atmospheric conditions, aluminum may not be advisable but such is definitely not the usual. It seems in many such cases that the manufacturers of such aluminum products have not convinced local dealers and contractors to handle their products.

Q: The plastic countertop in the kitchen has developed scratches around the sink. What can I use to cover up these marks?

A: I know of nothing available to eliminate scratches on plastic surfaces.

Q: Our hardwood floors were sanded and finished with two coats of shellac. Some carpenter work was to be done and the builder covered the floor with building paper. Evidently the shellac was old, since it did not dry, causing the building paper to stick to the floor. After removing the paper, disfiguring marks can be seen. Is there some way of removing such marks without resanding?

A: The only treatment is to wash the shellac off the floor with "O" steel wool and plenty of denatured alcohol. Refinish with a top quality pure fresh white shellac.

PAINT PRESERVES HOMES

Resistance to moisture and the controlled passage of moisture through various surfaces constitute one of the greatest functions of paint. Moisure causes wood to swell, warp, rot and decay. Most things made of metal rust and corrode. Porous masonry is attacked and impaired by moisture. Interior wall finishes are marred and ruined through neglect of exterior surfaces. Paint preserves the billions of dollars invested in American homes, commercial and public buildings, industrial plants, transportation equipment and farm properties.

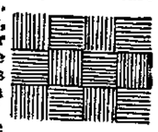
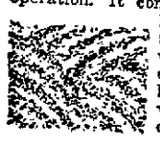
The Latest Style-Texture—Applied With Plastra-Tone

Texture is all the rage in fashion centers of the world. In clothes, in fabrics and in rugs and wall surfaces, it's texture everywhere. And what finer, and simpler way to texture your rooms than with Plastra-Tone?



Plastra-Tone is the modern texture finish which plasters and paints in one operation. It comes in fifteen lovely decorator shades and white and is easily applied by anyone, with a roller or brush over any surface... plaster, wallboard, wallpaper, even brick or concrete. Plastra-Tone not only re-colors and textures your rooms but camouflages and hides cracks, seams and wall imperfections.



Plastra-Tone is ready-mixed. There's nothing to add or stir. All you do is select your color and apply it yourself as simply as painting. It's economical too. See it at your dealers today.

On the House

Older House Can Stand Project of Modernization

By DAVID G. BAREUTHER
AP Real Estate Editor

How to modernize a house turned out to be one of the most significant although little noticed problems taken up at the recent Chicago convention of the National Association of Home Builders. If householders in general could have squeezed into that convention, which overflowed all the Loop's hotels, they would have rushed for that session on keeping homes up to date.

The builders were so enthusiastic about the more than a million new homes they are going to build this year that they had to be convinced that there is a lot of good business in remodeling our great majority of older houses — even though they'll be taking some of them as trade-ins on their new models.

One of the speakers—Sam Paul, a Long Island, N. Y., architect—took the bull by the horns and admitted to the builders "when you remodel an old house, you are in a sense competing with new homes."

He explained:

"Every effort should be made to incorporate into the old structure as many as possible of the features that ordinarily are found in the sleek new homes of today."

From that point on, there was plenty of sound advice for every homeowner who would like to bring his house up to date.

THE NEW HOUSING law, which provides more liberal financing terms for modernization jobs, and the fact that the government generally is seeking to stimulate improvement of old houses were stressed by Architect Paul as working toward the advantage of everyone involved.

"Value received in a purchased modernized home," he said, "will be equal to, or perhaps greater in some cases than a new home—provided the renovation is carefully planned and carried out.

"Eight years ago, we were the architects in the remodeling of a white elephant in the village of Hewlett Neck, Long Island. The house, on a ¾-acre plot in a very fine residential area, had been purchased for $10,000. Another $10,000 was invested in the modernization. When the job was completed, the owner was offered $30,000, but didn't want to sell. Today, that home is worth $50,000.

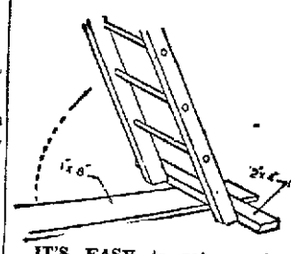
"THERE IS NO HOME that cannot be remodeled, but the cost factor in modernizing may not warrant the job. In that case, you stay away from it."

Being an architect, he naturally emphasized the importance of having an architect on any remodeling team. Why not? Design has played a bigger part in hastening the obsolescence of homes in the past 10 years than it ever did before in a quarter of a century. And since design is so important in new homes, you certainly need it in bringing any home up to date.

Why? Paul answered that question this way: "Many basic changes have come about in American family living habits in the past 20 years. We now have the problem of locating a television set . . . A family room, or recreation room has become almost mandatory . . . A very common deficiency in old houses is the lack of adequate bathrooms. To add another bath is costly, but it will increase the saleability of the house . . . Other deficiencies you can be sure of are the kitchen areas, auto storage and closet space . . .

"The remodeled home also will require space for the do-it-yourself people—sewing area, workshop and hobby space.

Ladder Aid



IT'S EASY to raise a long ladder single - handed with this simple device. Nail a 4 - foot scrap of 2 x 4 to the end of a long plank. Place the ladder on the plank so the legs will engage the 2 x 4. Raise the ladder rung by rung, walking along the plank to keep it from slipping. The American Builder, trade publication, says any length ladder ca be raised this way with little effort.

Home Craftsmen Find Red Cedar Ideal for Projects

Here's an idea project for home craftsmen who enjoy working with wood — line one of your closets with aromatic red cedar; or build a cedar closet in the attic, basement, or perhaps an upstairs hallway or bedroom.

The "little woman" will appreciate your thoughtfulness in providing a moth-safe storage for woolens.

Moreover, you'll particularly enjoy doing things with red cedar because of its pleasant aroma and easy working qualities.

Aromatic red cedar closet lining is available at moderate cost from almost any lumber dealer. It comes in handy bundles containing pieces ⅜-inch thick and up to 8 feet long.

There is a choice of several widths from 2 to 4 inches. All pieces are tongued and grooved for snug, easy joining. Five or six bundles are sufficient to line the average size closet.

To convert an existing closet, apply the lining to the walls, ceiling, floor and door. The strips can be nailed to framing right through plaster or wallboard. In doing the walls, it is advisable to work upward from the bottom.

Greater airtightness of the closet, assuring better protection against moths, can be obtained by weatherstripping the door.

For a new storage simply build framework on 2-foot centers and cover the inside with cedar lining. The outside can be finished off with any material of your choice, such as hardwood plywood or wallboard.

Shelf Stores Chemicals

If there are small children in your home, be careful of the household chemicals you leave within their reach. Cleaning compounds and bleaches are certainly not made to be swallowed by infants, yet they are often kept on the floor beneath the sink.

The U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare advises that such substances be kept safely beyond the fingers of small children. If necessary, you can easily build a shelf for household chemicals high on the kitchen wall. It is also a simple matter to make such a shelf attractive by enameling it to match the wall or trim color.

KILLS ROOTS

Available for use in sewer lines clogged with roots is a chemical product which kills the roots without damaging trees or shrubs, says the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau. The root-destroyer may be obtained from plumbing dealers who will offer suggestions on how it can be used with perfect safety.

Growing Pains

Basic Planning Is Called Root to Good Gardening

By ALBERT S. FULLING
Associated Press Writer

If you go to seed while the chill winds blow outside, the early sprout in your seed flat or flower pot will give you a bigger charge than a magnum of champagne.

Some gardners favor growing indoor seedlings for the head start as well as being able to choose a larger variety than usually available in nurserys.

With seed flats or pots, sterilized soil, and a good growing location with warmth, moisture and air circulation and light, you're gardening while the winter wind blows into spring.

DON'T START too early, or you'll have seedlings to transplant —and snow on the ground. Be guided by your regional conditions and the seed packet directions.

If you use seed flats or small boxes, sow the seed in rows. Spiral sowing is recommended for pot plantings.

To get good germination, you need quality seed, moisture, air and proper temperature. Sow seeds thinly and cover lightly with sand or sandy soil. Water well. The best way is by sub-irrigation. If you water from the top, use a fine spray.

Tiny seeds, such as petunias, should be sprinkled atop the soil, pressed into the surface and left uncovered.

GOOD PRACTICE after planting is to cover the soil surface with newspaper to prevent quick evaporation of moisture. The paper should be removed after the seeds start to sprout.

When the seedlings show first true leaves, transplant to larger quarters or outdoors to prevent overcrowding and disease. Before transplanting, water the bed well a few hours before the operation. Try to transplant on a cloudy day for best results. Also, try to keep the soil around the roots of the seedlings. If it falls off, in transplanting, keep a mud solution handy into which to dip the roots.

A big advantage of raising your own seedlings is the variety which you can plan in your garden. Actually, for all practical purposes, it's easier to get seedlings from a nursery to plant in the ground at the proper time.

BUT NURSERYMEN have but a small variety of plants from which to choose flower or vegetables—and at times, inadvertently will give you a variety other than that which you ordered.

There are so many interesting varieties of each species of plant that being your own nurseryman is an adventure.

Remember the limits of your garden, however. If you plan to carry a dozen tomato plants through to fruiting, you usually can buy 12 plants for about 50 or 60 cents. You're going through a lot of trouble to plant a whole seed packet in a seedflat and then give the excess away. The same theory applies to flowers.

Basic planning is the root of all good gardening practice.

Aids Remodeling

Ease of Installation Key To Paneling's Popularity

Ease of installation is a main reason for the steady rise in sales of hardwood plywood wall paneling to handy persons who wish to undertake remodeling jobs themselves, according to lumber dealers.

Many dealers are catering to the "do it yourself" element in home remodeling by furnishing installation information and displaying the plywood panels in easily-viewed racks designed to show off the wide range of color tones possible with genuine hardwoods.

THE FIRST STEP in redecorating with plywood paneling is to select a species that blends or contrasts well with the furnishings and color in the home. The six most popular species are birch, gum, oak, mahogany, maple and walnut.

Next, the handiman should prepare the walls. The panels can be applied directly to the old walls, if they are true and even. It may be necessary to use shims where wall areas are concave. The panels also may be applied over furring strips, nailed horizontally around the room at 2-foot intervals, with vertical strips fitted in where the panel joints are to occur. Steel - cut or resin - coated nails are best for fastening the furring strips.

If the use of furring causes the panels to extend into the room beyond the face of door and window trim, the trim should be removed and replaced with mouling or narrow wood bands. The latter, of course, should be thick enough so that they will either cover the panel ends or come flush with them.

BECAUSE THE PANELS are natural hardwood, each will have an individual grain marking. This enhances the overall appearance and broadens the decorative possibilities. Before nailing, plan the room. This can be done by laying the panels against the walls and shifting until the sequence most pleasing to the eye is obtained. Sequence matched panels can be ordered for special installation.

Usually, it is best to begin nailing the panels at one corner of the room and working all the way around, except in the case of rooms which have a main wall feature such as a picture window or a fireplace. Then the craftsman should begin working on each side and away from the central feature.

THE PANELS CAN be fastened with small finishing nails or brads which are later countersunk and filled with a matching plastic wood. Heavier nails may be used at the top and bottom which will be covered with moldings. Another method is to glue the panels or to combine spot-gluing with nails. The craftsman should begin nailing at one edge of the panel and work across the width to avoid bulges.

The simplest joining system is the "V" joint made by running a plane along the edge of the panel. If a flush butt joint is desired, the panel edges can be grooved to receive splines so that surface alignment will be perfect. Some panels on the market already have interlocking joint treatments.

FOR "INSIDE" CORNERS the most common procedure is to use a butt joint to be covered with a cove or quarter round molding. For "outside" corners, the panels should be cut to fit flush at the corners so that a quarter round of the same thickness can be installed to hide the joint and provide a smooth rounded edge.

Only a light touch of sanding is needed because hardwood plywood panels are pre-sanded by the manufacture. The panels should be wiped free of dust and grit before applying the finish. The nails should be countersunk, but not filled until after the first coat of sealer. The preferred finish is the clear or natural variety which enhances the natural beauty of the wood itself.

Devices Bring Individuality to Homes

Expert Says Few Basic Ideas Make Similar Houses Different

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Are you tortured with the problem of "how to be different" in your development home?

If so, forget it.

It's simple if you'll keep a few basic tips in mind says James Merrick Smith, Miami decorator.

Smith who has just decorated six exhibit homes of ten thousand planned by Harland Bartholomew in Carol City, Florida, says you are a cinch to be different if you will just develop a few basic ideas.

"Keep in mind," he says, "that eye space is important in a small room. Select furniture that is scaled to the room size. Large pieces are space eaters."

He suggests choosing open airy furniture. Such items as open arm chairs, armless divans and open headboards are all good choices.

GIVE YOUR WALL room to breathe. Don't clutter them with pictures. Use your imagination in putting decoration on the walls. Smith employed Florida materials such as shells, sprays of coral and seaweed, dried seed pods of tropical shrubs and trees on walls of these Carol City homes.

One inexpensive device he used on walls is the plywood cutout. Take any design you like from a stylized leaf to a fish. (If you live in the mountains you might prefer a bear or a tree shape.) Cut it out of the plywood. Several of the same shape may be used or a number of different shapes might be grouped together.

Smith suggests a basic color scheme that will float through the house. It will make the house look larger and it won't be monotonous if you empasize a different color in each room.

FOR THE THREE bedrooms, one and a half bathroom house in this development, Smith used an all - over color plan of two shades of blue and yellow. All walls were light blue. Yellow was used as the predominant color in the accessories of one room, dark blue in another with yellow and light blue accessories. In the living room the three colors were balanced.

He used lavender blue and gray for the four bedroom two bath house. Living room wallpaper is a chalky blue with lavender and silver. Blue dominated the room, gray and lavender were accessories. One bedroom emphasized the lavender shade and another small studio bedroom gave free reign to the gray.

"When you have such a color plan," advises Smith, "you can borrow accessories from one room to another. Or you can have upholstered pieces around without fear that they will clash."

Most of these Florida homes have sliding glass doors leading from the living room to the patio so he carried his color scheme and furniture style right out there.

If you want to use period furniture in your modern ranch style home, don't hesitate — unless of course it is massive Empire, Chippendale or another period which might overwhelm a little house, he says. French Provincial style was used by Smith in one of these homes and he found that "the style is particularly well adapted to small homes because the furniture is light in feeling and can be used informally."

Area rugs and plenty of uncovered floor space also give a feeling of spaciousness to the small room, he says.

PRIME AND FILL

When new wood is to be painted, a primer is applied first. Next, all cracks or nail-head indentations are filled with spackling material (indoors) or putty (ourdoors). The filler is carefully smoothed and allowed to dry before brushing on the finishing coats.

INDIVIDUAL LIVING. Note the plywood cutouts on wall and the sofa without arms for a sense of spaciousness. Both are part of a decorating plan to increase the individuality of development homes.

Bender Putting Weight Into Election Campaign

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — George H. Bender, Ohio's junior U. S. senator, is putting his weight into a vigorous campaign for reelection in 1956.

Bender, Cleveland Republican, told a newsman here yesterday he has already lost 12 pounds campaigning for reelection to the seat he won last November. Sen. Bender announced for reelection as soon as he won the election for the remaining two years of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft's six-year term.

On Monday, said Bender, he will visit Steubenville, Cadiz, St. Clairsville and other eastern Ohio towns. He has booked numerous speaking engagements in Ohio in coming weeks and says he plans to keep right on campaigning until the 1956 election.

Bandits Rob Market, Herd 9 Into Cooler

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Nine customers, including women and children, were herded into a cooler yesterday by four heatly dressed robbers who made off with $1,152 from a market at nearby Kinsman.

William Woessner, manager of the store, said the bandits took $767 from the cash register, $85 from him and about $300 from his customers' wallets and purses.

Howard Trill, a sheriff's deputy, said that in addition the robbers got an undetermined amount of change—rolled dimes, nickles and quarters they found near the register.

By the time the manager, his four employes and the customers got out of the back-room cooler, they found the four men had escaped in an automobile.

'Dog-Tired' Pooch Mooches Officers Out of Free Food

Police are still wondering if the dog they took to the veterinarian last night was sick or just plain tired. At 11:32 p.m., they received a call from Ruth Davis at 660 E. Mark St. that a dog had been lying on her front porch since 4:30 in the afternoon, when he was apparently hit by a passing car.

Police took the dog to the Dr. John F. Kantzer animal hospital on N. Main St. where Mrs. Kantzer examined the dog. She could find nothing wrong with the animal. It walked around for a while, then laid down again in a box.

Policemen fed the dog while it was lying down, then took it back to Mark St. where it walked off under its own power. They believe the animal was just "dog-tired."

Three Persons Fined

Two persons were fined $15 and costs each on disorderly conduct charges in Municipal Court Friday, while a third received the same fine when he pleaded guilty to a charge of intoxication and disorderly conduct.

Robert Wurstbaugh, 36, of 173 W. Center St. was fined for intoxication and disorderly conduct, while John O. Pinion, 35, of near Mount Gilead and Thelma V. Marvin of W. Center St. were fined on disorderly conduct charges.

Sheep Auction

The market price averaged 25 cents lower than last week when 666 animals were sld by 32 consignors at the weekly sheep sale held by the Producers Livestock Cooperation Association Friday at its Marion yards. A summary of the sale follows:

Sheep and lambs: Total No. 666. Market 2 cents lower than last Friday; prime lambs 23.00; choice 22.00-23.00; good 21.00-22.00; utility 18.00-21.00; cull 18.00 down; good clip lambs 20.00-21.20; medium clip lambs 18.00-20.00; feeder lambs 20.00-20.90; aged sheep for slaughter 5.00-9.00.

News of the Churches

Ash Wednesday Services Will Open Lenten Period

Beginning the most solemn season of the Christian year, Marion churches have planned special emphasis for the coming weeks of Lent on Christ's sacrifice for the salvation of man, carried out by his crucifixion.

Opening the Lenten period will be the services of Ash Wednesday, and pastors have prepared special messages for their congregations next Wednesday followed by mid-week services through the pre-Easter calendar.

Traditional blessing of the ashes from the palms of the Palm Sunday observance last year will be held at St. Mary Catholic Church Wednesday morning before the 8:15 Mass. The ashes are distributed as a symbol of the people to do penance. There will be a service at 7:30 p.m. with Lenten sermon and Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament. The ashes will be distributed then for a second time. Ash Wednesday is a fast day.

SERVICES FOR the remainder of Lent will be Sundays at 4 p.m. when Holy Hour, Lenten sermon and Benediction will be included. Tuesday night services will be Way of the Cross and Benediction, and Thursday nights, Lenten sermon followed by Benediction. The sermons will be by Rev. Robert Roster, a Sanguinest Father and pastor of Sacred Heart Church at Milford Center. There will be three Masses each day, at 7 a.m., 7:30 and 8:15 throughout Lent.

Ash Wednesday morning communion services at St. Paul's Episcopal Church will be at 7:15 and 10. An evening service of prayer and sermon will be at 7:30. There will be a communion service Friday at 7:15 a.m.

A Lenten vesper service will be held at Emanuel Lutheran Church at 7:30 Ash Wednesday evening. Communion will be celebrated. Assisting the pastor, Rev. M. E. Hollensen, will be John D. O'Donnell, a member of Emanuel congregation and a theological student at Capital University at Columbus. The general theme for the Lenten vesper services will be "Christ Died for the Respectable," with the theme for Wednesday night's sermon being "With Their Respectable Indignation."

COMMUNION WILL BE a part of the Ash Wednesday service at St. Paul's English Lutheran Church Wednesday night. The sermon will be on "Facts Must Be Faced." There will be Wednesday night services throughout Lent.

Tomorrow afternoon, annual pre-Lenten visitation of First Evangelical and Reformed Church will be held. Representatives of the church will call on members in order to extend a personal invitation to the weekly Lenten services which will begin Ash Wednesday night. The Prayer Circle will meet at 7 p.m. Wednesday followed by first of the mid-week services of the period at 7:30 p.m. Communion will be included for Ash Wednesday observance.

Subject for the first of the series of Wednesday night Lenten services at Salem Evangelical and Reformed Church, for Ash Wednesday, will be "The Christian Believes in God."

Epworth Methodist Church will be open all day Wednesday for meditation and prayer to permit individuals, families, or groups to begin the Lenten season "by spending a period of time in God's House."

Sermon Topics

First Presbyterian, "The Salt of the Earth."

Emanuel Lutheran, "No Man Repented Him of His Wickedness."

Epworth Methodist, "God Would Show Us the Way" and "Methodist Beliefs."

We Go Up to Jerusalem

A Sermonette

By REV. M. E. HOLLENSEN
Pastor of Emanuel Lutheran Church

"Behold, we go up to Jerusalem." — Luke 18:31.

With the coming of Ash Wednesday the Christian world enters upon another Lenten season.

This period of forty days before Easter is set apart for a consideration of the sufferings and death of our Lord Jesus Christ. While a count of the days from Ash Wednesday to Easter Sunday reveals that there are forty-six days, we remember that the six Sundays of the Passion season are not considered as Lenten days because Sundays are always celebrations of the resurrection of our Lord and not of his Passion.

Since this forty-day period is meant to be a time for our personal meditation on the crucifixion of Jesus, let us then, as the Lententide begins next week, go up to Jerusalem to behold Christ's love for us.

WE SEE THE love of Christ in all its fulness and beauty in his sacrifice on Calvary. Christ certainly proved his love for us by his willingness to go to the cross and there suffer and die in our stead. "Greater love hath no man than this that a man lay down his life for his friends."

Here at the cross we know that Jesus, God the Son, was filled with love and mercy for us. He did not count the cost but came from the ivory palaces of heaven to this sin-cursed world in order to die. He came into the world for the expressed purpose of dying for us. And he offered himself willingly and gladly. Love was the motive, not force. He was willing to be our Substitute and to take upon himself the guilt and the eternal punishment of us all.

In the coming Lenten season let us see to it that we behold this great love of Christ for us.

LET US AS the Lenten season begins, go up to Jerusalem to behold Christ's salvation which he offers us.

The suffering and death of our Lord atoned for our sins and thus merited eternal salvation for us. Jesus died for all sin, original and actual, venial and mortal, and paid the price by his meritorious sacrifice on the cross.

And because his sacrifice was an eternal, timeless sacrifice, his sufferings and death have merited salvation and eternal life for all men, regardless of the time in history when they may live. This Christ - wrought salvation means for us the forgiveness of our sins.

It means that God for Christ's sake blots our sins from his mind, cancels them, covers them up. This salvation in Christ means that we are delivered from the eternal consequences of our sins. We in Christ are freed from an eternity of darkness in hell. Salvation that Christ has purchased for us means an eternity of joy with him in heaven.

Let us take the time during the Lenten season to meditate upon our glorious Christ and his wonderful salvation purchased for us with his blood.

LET US GO up to Jerusalem to behold Christ's concern for us.

We cannot follow Christ to the cross without becoming mindful of his deep and abiding concern for us. Christ wants each one of us saved. There is no human being on the face of the earth that Christ wants to save any more than he wants to save us.

We are eternally precious in his sight. His love for us knows no bounds. Jesus wants us to repent and to believe in him and to remain faithful to him so that his all-sufficient redemptive work may not be in vain for us. Yes, it makes a tremendous difference to our Savior whether we are saved or not. Let us rejoice in the sunshine of Christ's concern for us.

May the forty-day Lenten period be a season of refreshment for all of us. Amen.

Dish Company Rallies To Aid Dieting Person

PITTSBURGH (UP) — A chinaware manufacturer who went on a diet is responsible for the latest aid to the weight conscious — a plate which gives the calorie count of foods.

Murray Miller, president of the Eastern China Co., said every time he pulled up to the table he forgot calorie restrictions. He asked his designers to turn out a plate lising calories in dairy foods, egg dishes, meats and vegetables. The "calorie plate" resulted.

It was displayed during the annual Pittsburgh Glass and Pottery show, an exhibit indicating that the manufacturers are out to please every taste and pocketbook. A single vase adorned with curvaceous mermaids sells for $350. Yet, the housewife can buy a 32-piece dinnerware set for $17.95. Plastic dinnerware sturdy enough to defy the most destructive of children are available; so are delicate stemware needing a feather touch.

Much of the dinnerware is informal, stressing the "come out of the kitchen" idea. Cooking utensils in increasing numbers are made to go from oven or top of stove to table.

Manufacturers show increasing color consciousness. Only a few seasons ago pinks and blues were a daring break from the traditional white tableware. Freda Diamond, a New York designer, features "aqua ripple" tumblers, with a rough finish and a delicate aqua tint.

State Jobs Plentiful

ALBANY, N. Y. (UP) — Since 1948, almost 2,000 college graduates have been appointed to New York state jobs.

Each January, a "college series" of civil service exams is held and permanent appointments from the list are made following June graduation. The 1955 appointments will be made in the fields of accounting, law, library science, engineering, chemistry, physics, geology and journalism.

During the critical labor shortage of World War II, there were never less than 400,000 unemployed people in the United States.
